CRISIS DUE TODAY IN MINE CLASH

Anthracite Operators Ready to Answer Workers' Demands

REPLY MAY BE ULTIMATUM

Solid Front Presented by the Pit Owners

(BULLETIN)
NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—The general policies committee of the anthracite coal operators today notified the miners in session here that they were willing to compromise the wage controversy on a basis whereby the anthracite industry will provide fair wages, full time employment to its workers and maximum production of coal at a cost which will enable it to be sold to its customers at a "price they are able to pay."

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Negotiations to avert a threatened closing of the anthracite coal mines of the nation were expected to reach a climax late today, when operators present their reply to the 19 wage demands submitted by the miners at a joint conference last Wednesday. Secrecy is maintained as to what the reply will be. It was framed last night at a Chamber session of 74 mine operators, after Secretary of Labor Davis had caused it to be understood that the government would steer clear of the controversy unless it threatened to involve the public by cutting off its coal supply. Whether the reply was an ultimatum or an offer to compromise, was not revealed by the operators before they met. The labor representatives freely predicted that they would receive counter-proposals which would prolong the negotiations, virtually assuring suspension of mine operations temporarily at least, after April 1.

PRESENT SOLID FRONT
Complete acceptance of the 19 demands of the workers was not anticipated in any quarter of the conference. Despite rumors that a number of the smaller operators decided to reject flatly the miners' demands, it was reported today that all 74 were parties to the reply framed last night. The operators thus presented a solid front when the conference was resumed today, it was said. Machinery for the appointment of arbitrating committees and sub-committees of investigation had already been set up today by the labor organizations, ready for the expected offer of the mine owners to compromise by submitting counter-proposals. It was believed a settlement based on such counter-proposals could not be effected in less than four weeks, even if all negotiations should run without a hitch.

RESULT AWAITED
It was anticipated the labor crisis in the bituminous fields would be affected directly by the reply to the demands of the anthracite workers. Dr. F. G. Davis of the Department of Labor said today. In both the anthracite and bituminous industries, existing wage contracts will expire April 1. No steps to prepare a new schedule in the bituminous fields have been taken, however, and organized miners are awaiting the result of the present conference before announcing what they will expect in their next agreement.

Surveys of the anthracite stocks made by the department of labor, have determined that a shortage of domestic anthracite ought not normally to occur until seven weeks after a walkout. An even larger supply of setam anthracite had been stored up, it was found. In the bituminous districts the consumers' prospects, in the event of a strike would be even better. Secretary of Labor Davis has declared. Besides considerable stocks of coal on hand, it was pointed out that a large percentage of the bituminous mines were non-union, and could almost keep pace with the current demands of consumers.

YOUTH IS HANGED

Executed for Murder of Two Washington Men

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—John McHenry, aged 24, former New London, Conn., youth, was hanged today for the murder of a Washington city detective and an automobile dealer. Efforts to obtain a commutation to life imprisonment for the youth were continued up to the last but failed. President Harding having refused to intervene in the matter. At attempt to prevent the hanging today was made by the local branch of the Sons of Irish Freedom, whose officers said the taking of McHenry's life today would amount to a desecration of the feast-day of Ireland's patron saint. McHenry was found guilty of killing the automobile dealer while attempting to rob the dealer's place of business, and of killing the detective in an endeavor to escape. It was brought out at his trial that he had served sentences in several New England reformatories and other penal institutions.

POLICE CAR WRECK PROBE IS ORDERED BY MANAGER

PROSECUTION OF LIQUOR CASES DROPPED BY U. S.; TURNED OVER TO CITY AUTHORITIES FOR ACTION

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. — (United Press).—Responsibility for prosecution of liquor law violations will be turned over to state officers and courts wherever possible. Attorney General Daugherty declared on rejoining President Harding's vacation party here today. However, in such states where the work cannot or will not be done by the state, the federal government will do it, Daugherty said.

CHICAGO — (United Press).—The United States government today quit prosecution of liquor law violations cases and turned them over to local authorities for action. Robert M. Crowe, state's attorney, asked by representatives of Attorney General Daugherty, to accept responsibility for enforcing the prohibition laws, accepted today and announced all cases in the future would be tried in municipal courts. Crowe accepted the job on solicitation of District Attorney Cline, who presented letters from Daugherty, asking it.

It was anticipated here that similar steps would be taken throughout the country. Crowded conditions of the dockets of federal courts was assigned as the reason, it was said. Thousands of liquor law violation cases are pending here. Under the new plan, federal authorities will obtain evidence and then turn it over to the city. Less stringent prosecution of violators, amounting to virtual home rule on the liquor question was seen by bone-dry advocates here today. Violators tried in city courts, have a right to a jury trial which means a long, tedious process. Many pointed out conviction would be next to impossible in Chicago and other wet communities. Some time ago, John J. Healy, then state's attorney, started in to enforce the Sunday closing ordinance. He had to give it up when jury after jury acquitted defendants who admitted their guilt, but whose attorneys argued Chicago was not in favor of strict enforcement.

Manager Bingham Wants to Know Why Driver Apparently Ran Away After Crashing Into Crossing Gates Early Thursday Morning

Report to Chief Not Satisfactory In Light of New Findings
—Dawson Fails to Advise Bingham of Smash-Up
—Kipker Driver

Wrecking of the police department touring car at an early hour Thursday morning brought a two-way investigation Friday. City Manager Bingham, not satisfied with the report made to Chief Dawson, ordered a sweeping probe. The Pennsylvania R. R. police force was conducting an investigation on its own behalf.

Bingham wants to know why the auto apparently ran away after being damaged.

Dawson announced Thursday that the wrecking of the car was a mystery and detailed detectives to work on the case. Later in the day, about 4 p. m., Dawson believes, Willis Kipker, for a time acting night captain, now detective, filed a report in which he admitted that he drove the car into the crossing gates at the Main-st crossing of the Pennsylvania.

It was this report that did not satisfy the city manager after he had been informed, not by police, that the car was damaged both by hitting the crossing gates and then by being backed rapidly into a telephone pole about 200 feet distant, apparently in an effort to evade the Pennsylvania crossing watchman.

DAWSON UNABLE TO SAY WHY REPORT IS DELAYED BY HIS RIGHT HAND MAN

Chief Dawson admitted that the manager had ordered him to go to the bottom of the affair, but was reticent concerning his findings. He was unable to say why Kipker, Dawson's right-hand man since he ascended to the chiefship, had not made a report when he went off duty Thursday morning. Dawson professed to be ignorant of the manner in which the car was damaged when questioned by a reporter for The Lima News at noon Thursday.

Men in charge of the crossing gates for the Pennsylvania declare that the police automobile ran into the gates about 3 a. m. Thursday. The watchman, in accordance with orders, started towards the machine to get the number and the driver's name in order that the company would know to whom an expense account for repairs should be sent. It is declared after the car crashed into the gates the driver threw the gears into reverse, keeping the bright headlights in the watchman's eyes and backed rapidly north on Main-st. The watchman was unable to get the number or see the driver. Neither does he know how many occupants there were in the car.

SPARE TIRE IS BROKEN OFF CAR WHEN IT HITS TELEPHONE POLE

The machine was run into a large telephone pole at Pearl-st, the spare tire broken off the holder on the rear and the back of the machine damaged. Damage to the pole indicates that the car hit it a terrific jolt. The machine was then swung down Pearl-st and disappeared, watchmen say.

The driver did not stop to pick up the rear tire. It was found lying in the street Thursday morning by a newsboy and was taken to the Pennsylvania watchman's tower. The tire was claimed later in the day by policemen.

Manager Bingham says he is unable to see why a police auto on a duty call should run away after hitting the crossing gate. It will be this angle that Dawson's probe must clear up for the manager.

In his report to Dawson, Kipker said, according to the manager, that he had been to the North End to investigate a report of two suspicious characters and failing to find them was returning to headquarters. He said the clutch stuck and he was unable to stop to prevent hitting the crossing gates, which were down. Dawson refused to show the report to The Lima News Friday or to give out any information concerning it. He said his investigation may be completed by Friday evening. He declined to express any opinion.

Manager Bingham said he would call Dawson in for a conference at once and expressed dissatisfaction with the report to the chief. The incident was not reported to the manager Thursday. The first knowledge of it coming to him thru a story published in this newspaper Thursday afternoon. There was no intimation as to what action will be taken if the probe should show that the automobile was used for purposes other than that for which it is maintained. Dawson did not say what lines he is following in his investigation he is conducting under orders of the manager.

PACT FOES SEEK WILSON'S AID

Some Treaty Opponents Still Keeping Up the Fight

WASHINGTON — (United Press)—Hope of 11th hour aid from Woodrow Wilson today was keeping alive some of the Democratic opposition to the four-power treaty. Mere mention of Wilson's name gave rise, as usual, to a crop of totally unsubstantiated rumors, but among them there were evidences of one fact—that some of the Democrats either have appealed or will appeal to Wilson to use his influence with individual Democratic senators to have them vote against the treaty. It was reported that Wilson would do this between now and Friday, March 21, the date for voting on the pact. But that was mere report. There is no doubt that if Wilson would openly align himself with the treaty foes, he would change some votes. Whether he could change enough to prevent ratification is a question.

With many senators absent for the week-end, there were indications today of flagging interest in the treaty debate. A St. Patrick's Day set-to on the Irish question threatened, however. Some days ago, Senator Williams, Mississippi, criticized "hyphenated Americans, who are fighting the pact," paying particular attention to the friends of Irish freedom. Late yesterday, Senator Ashurst, Arizona, replying to Williams, criticized him for attacking patriotic citizens. Williams was expected to retort today.

PAY OF ALLIES TO U. S. DEMANDED

Senators Urge Action As to Rhineland Occupation Cost

PARTY LEADERS IN CLASH

Underwood Blames Republicans For Situation

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—Declaration that the United States should insist upon payment of its bill of $241,000,000 for keeping American soldiers in Germany were made today in the senate by both party leaders—Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and Underwood—and Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho. Mr. Underwood also urged appointment of an American representative on the allied reparations commission.

Both Senators Lodge and Underwood charged the allies were attempting "by a technicality" to oppose payment of the bill for the American troops, while Senator Borah said the allies' attitude was "entirely unwarranted."

REPUBLICANS BLAMED

Senator Underwood asserted the Republicans were responsible for not having a member of the reparations commission. This, the Democratic leader asserted, was the only way in which the occupation claim could be collected. Senators Lodge and Underwood, Republican, Washington, denied this contention, declaring that the obligation to pay for the American soldiers rested upon the armistice agreement and not upon either the treaty of Berlin or that of Versailles.

Senator Borah brought up the question today in the senate. He called attention to reports that Premier Poincare of France had declared that America has no legal right to collect for the keep of American troops in Germany. "I have no doubt that Secretary Hughes will work out some method of securing payment," said Senator Borah, adding that he was, however, primarily interested in having all American troops brought out of Germany.

BENEFIT OF ALLIES
"Our army was left in Europe supposedly to the benefit of the allies," said the Idaho senator. "Certainly it was not for the benefit of the American people directly or particularly. It now appears that our army is no longer needed in Europe. It seems to be that the attitude of the allies is entirely unwarranted and warrants our bringing home all of our soldiers."

Senator Borah added that the attitude of the allies in maintaining what he termed an excessive number of troops in Germany was "unjust" and calculated to prevent economic recovery of Germany and also of Europe. Senator Borah said the question of the return of the troops would be a "live issue" when the army appropriation bill comes before the senate.

Senator Underwood said he concurred in all that Senator Borah had said.

DRAFTING NOTES

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—Secretary Hughes was engaged today in drafting identical notes which will be sent to the allied governments setting forth the views of the United States on its demand for payment of $241,000,000 for costs of the army of occupation in Germany.

While no intimation was given concerning the text of the notes, it was said at the state department that the forthcoming communications would show that the United States expected its rights to payment to be fully met. It also was said that the notes would set forth that America was willing for a reasonable settlement of its claims, and that the American government was endeavoring to act without undue harshness in the matter of payment.

FOREIGN SLEUTHS RUN DOWN LIQUOR DEALERS

Manager Bingham Uses Columbus and Ft. Wayne Men to Collect Evidence in Lima—Pleased With Results
—Special Fund Exhausted

That Fort Wayne and Columbus detectives have been employed by Manager C. A. Bingham to obtain liquor evidence in Lima was admitted Friday when it was learned that $300 appropriated by the city commission for evidence and investigation is practically exhausted.

Raids conducted here recently in which six men were arrested were made upon data obtained by the out of town sleuths. The raids were the wind up of several investigations made here. Fort Wayne men operated here last, and according to the city manager did good work in obtaining evidence of liquor sales. RESULTS SATISFACTORY
Manager Bingham did not say why he deemed it necessary to employ foreign sleuths.

The results, Bingham indicated, were highly satisfactory. In one case, he said, a liquor dealer who was convicted in the morning made a sale to investigators the same afternoon, despite his assertions that he was all thru.

When the city commission took control of local government $200 was appropriated for investigations. The city manager commenced drawing against the appropriation February 14, when $25 was drawn. The money was checked out to the city manager. Later $100 was added to the fund.

Expenses of Captain George Strick for attending police school in Chicago were paid from the fund. One voucher, dated March 8, states the purpose, "For purchase of liquor." The amount is $15.60.

WIEDEFELDT MAY BE CHOSEN

Expected to be Named German Ambassador to U. S.

BERLIN — (Associated Press)—Chancellor Wirth's long search for a man to fill the post of ambassador to the United States appears to be nearing an end. Altho at the foreign office yesterday it was stated that "no choice has yet been made," the chancellor's efforts for the last week are known to have been centered on Dr. Otto Ludwig Wiedefeldt, a leading member of the Krupp directorate and one of the foremost German industrialists and economists. Dr. Wiedefeldt, who left for Essen last night after a consultation with the chancellor and Foreign Minister Rathenau, declared he had not given the subject final consideration, as he had not yet been able to discuss it with his colleagues in the Krupp board of directors and other organizations in which he is active.

While Dr. Wiedefeldt is known to be acceptable to the government, whose confidence he enjoys, strong efforts are being made in circles outside the cabinet to persuade him to remain at home where it is argued his services are more urgently needed.

WARNING OF ARMY CUT SOUNDED

Proposed Reduction Too Drastic, Kahn Tells Congress

DECLARED POOR ECONOMY

Speaker Sees Danger in Unpreparedness

WASHINGTON (Associated Press) — Warning of members of congress that "false economy" is the poorest of economies. Chairman Kahn of the house military affairs committee, declared today during consideration of the army appropriation bill, that a reduction in the size of the regular army to 115,000 enlisted men and 11,000 officers, as proposed in the measure, would be "altogether too drastic a cut at this time."

The chairman representative held that a provision should be made for 150,000 men and 13,000 officers during the coming fiscal year, as requested by the war department, or if congress were determined to direct a reduction in the interior economy that the enlisted strength should not be decreased below 140,000 men.

WARNING NOTED

Reviewing the military situation prior to the entrance of the United States into the world war, the chairman asserted that "by reason of our lack of preparedness, we were compelled to expand during the 19 months we were in the war the starting sum of $24,000,000,000."

"When compared with the expenditures of the American people for pleasure or non-essential commodities, the outlay for military purposes sink into comparative insignificance," he contended, as he quoted a variety of statistics.

"Comparing the expenditures of the United States during 1920-1921 on its army with that expended by other nations, Mr. Kahn said the United States expenditures totalled $413,355,103 or $122 per capita, while those of the British empire, exclusive of dependencies, amounted to $352,127,000 or $123.35 per capita; France $332,927,000 or $22.52 per capita; Italy $216,051,200 or $36.70 per capita and Japan $189,932,000 or $7.38 per capita."

ARMIES COMPARED

Contrasting with other leading powers the size of the army in comparison with the population, Mr. Kahn said that for the year 1921 the number in the American army was 142 per 1,000 population, while the number in the American army was France 14.47; Italy 8.17; Japan 5.4 and China 4.03.

"Each of these soldiers is at the present time protecting some 25 square miles of territory of our main land and dependencies, and with giving $48 of our people a guarantee against foreign interference with their constitutional rights in their pursuit of health, happiness and lawful gain. All this at a cost of $3 per capita of population," he said.

The army appropriation bill which until a year ago was drafted annually by the committee of which Mr. Kahn is chairman, was referred under the new rules of the house, by a sub-committee of five members of the appropriations committee headed by Representative Anthony, Republican, Kansas.

LITTLE CHANGE NOTED IN EMPLOYMENT SITUATION

Lima industrial plants are holding their own in coping with unemployment.

While few additional workers have been taken on recently, it is stated that the plants are holding their present forces and will have work for them continuously for some time to come.

Very few men are being taken on at the Lima Locomotive Works at present. A number were hired recently, when orders for 12 engines were received. The present force is adequate to carry on the time work started. There may be openings for additional men later, it is stated.

The Ohio Steel Foundry resumed operations a week ago and is running 35 per cent capacity.

Verdict of No Cause of Action Directed in Edgar Case

After witnesses for the plaintiff had testified in the case of Fred Edgar against Harry Mechling, as administrator of the estate of William Mechling, Judge F. C. Becker directed the jury which was hearing the case Friday to return a verdict of no cause of action.

Edgar sued for $2,520. He claimed that according to a contract made with Mechling before his death, he was to provide a home, food and lodging for him the remainder of his days and was to have all his property in return.

Edgar sought to show he had complied with the contract, making a claim from October, 1912 until September, 1918. He said he never received pay for such services and that Harry Mechling refused to account to him.

Mechling, in his answer, declared he had settled up the estate, his handling of matters had been confirmed by probate court and that he was no longer serving in such capacity.

Judge Becker held there was no reason for the suit being brought.

MINERS' DEMANDS EXPLAINED

Secretary-Treasurer of Union Gives Out Statement

PLACES BLAME FOR STRIKE

Caused by Operators' Refusal of Parley, He Says

INDIANAPOLIS — (United Press) — A nation-wide coal strike "will take place on April 1," William E. Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers, said unreservedly today, in a statement written for the United Press.

Green said all blame for the strike will rest upon the mine owners who refused to meet union representatives in inter-state wage conference as provided by the existing contract. He defended the six-hour day, five-day week demand of the miners as an effort to equalize the work throughout the year and furnish employment to more men at the present basis wage.

GREEN'S STATEMENT

"Suspension of mining operations in both the anthracite and bituminous coal fields of the United States will take place on April 1, and why? The answer is, because certain coal operators in the central competitive coal fields, the key to the whole bituminous coal situation, refuse to meet the miners for the purpose of negotiating a new wage agreement.

"During the course of events leading up to the impending shutdown of mining operations discussion is taking place among people in all walks of life regarding the merits and demerits of the miners' demands. Particularly is this true with reference to the proposal for a six-hour day and five-day week.

"This proposal of the bituminous miners is more often misinterpreted and misunderstood than any other section incorporated in the mine workers wage scale demands. The mine operators are under the impression that a coal mine operates eight hours a day and six days per week, and that the miner wants to reduce this working time to six hours per day and five days per week.

"People generally conclude that a coal mine operates like a factory every day in the week, and that a miner may work each and every day just like a clerk in a store or an employee in a factory.

"This is a popular misconception and a public misunderstanding. Coal mines are not like factories and stores. They do not operate every day. They operate only a small percentage of the time. Frequently, they are idle for weeks and months and during all this time the miners are forced into idleness.

"The capacity to produce bituminous coal is so far in excess of market requirements that the miners are idle from 30 to 50 per cent of the time. During some of these periods of long enforced idleness, miners and their families suffer great distress.

"Now the miners want to remedy this unhealthy industrial situation. They do not want to be idle during 35 days per year. They want to work more days per year. So in proposing a six-hour day and five-day week, they intend that instead of working less days per year, they will be permitted to work more days per year.

"The miners proposal for a shorter working day and shorter working week, aside from humane reasons, is offered as a solution for the problem of mine unemployment. Grade and unscientific, some may say. Well, who has offered any other solution, or who has made any practical or constructive suggestion for the purpose of relieving mine unemployment.

Burbank's Better Garden Tips

THIS greenhouse is where Luther Burbank, world's greatest scientific agriculturist, has made innumerable plant discoveries that have startled the world.

Out of it came the famous Burbank potato, the stoneless prune, the edible thornless cactus, the Shasta daisy, the Giant and Fragrance callas and many new apples, peaches, trees, flowers, grasses, grains and vegetables.

Thru it all Burbank has learned gardening from the ground up. No man knows as much about plant life as he does.

The Lima News has secured 12 gardening stories from Burbank that will help you to have a better garden this year.

These stories begin in the Lima News Sunday. Read the first—and all the rest of them, if you want to get real results out of your garden work.

DOCTORS, WOMEN KIDNAPED

Three Couples Seized by Bandits in Chicago

JEWELRY AND CASH TAKEN

Victims Released After Being Robbed by Gang

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Three prominent Chicago physicians and their women companions were kidnapped and robbed early today by motor bandits.

The party of six had just returned from a party and had stopped their car at the apartment of Miss Katherine Frazier on the north side.

Three youthful bandits covered the party with guns and forced them from the automobile. They were marched down the street several yards and forced in an expensive touring car.

The bandit car was driven madly by one of the youths. At the outskirts of the city $4,000 in jewelry and $100 in cash were taken from the six and they were then shoved from the automobile.

The victims were: Dr. John Nuzum, Dr. Alton Ochsner, Dr. R. W. Rudolph, Mrs. Gretch-on Rohr, Miss Katherine Frazier and Miss Isabella Lockwood. ATTEMPTED TRAIN HOLDUP CALESBURG, Ill. — (United Press) — A daring attempt to rob an express car of speeding Santa Fe train Number 7 was frustrated early today.

The agent at Williamsfield, two miles from here, saw a large box thrown from the door of an express car as the train sped by. Police of Galesburg and Chillicothe, were notified and packages strewn along the right of way were recovered.

Henry Johnson, colored, who was near the scene at the time, was arrested. He denied participation, declaring two white men boarded the train at Chillicothe. It was believed the two men escaped from the train as it stopped at Galesburg.

Local Santa Fe officials believed most of the loot was wearing apparel and had been recovered.

TOLANS, HUSBAND AND WIFE, ARE PATIENTS AT ST. RITA'S HOSPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Tolan, 562 W. Spring-st., are patients at St. Rita's hospital.

Mrs. Tolan was first taken to the hospital for treatment. Her husband had been there for treatment for a severe cold. He left the hospital. Later, returning to visit his wife, he told of feeling badly. Diagnosis of his case revealed pneumonia.

There was some improvement in his condition Friday, according to announcement from St. Rita's hospital. Tolan is vice president of the Lima Trust company.

RUSSIAN SILKS GO FOR FOOD

Important Contracts Made With British and French

25 SHIPS PASS IN MONTH

Soviet Trade Commissioner Talks on Exports

CONSTANTINOPLE — (Associated Press) — Borislaw Koudish, Russian Soviet Trade Commissioner in Constantinople, says that Russia is exporting wool, timbers, furs, skins, silks and other goods in exchange for food, agricultural implements, drugs, optical instruments which are in great need in Russia.

"We have made important contracts with British and French firms," he continued. "Twenty-five ships went thru the Straits of the Bosphorus in November on their way to ports in the Crimea. Their cargoes consisted mostly of foodstuffs and agricultural implements. Our export trade is far from attaining the normal, not because we lack raw materials, in which Russia abounds, but because our export operations can only be established on a basis of sound agreements with our neighbors and with the rest of Europe and America."

DIVIDEND PASSED
NEW YORK — Directors of the Crucible Steel Company decided not to declare a dividend on common stock.

Baldwin Locomotive Chief Sees Gradual Business Growth

MANY WHOLESALE SIGNS

Everybody Will be Busy in Fall, Writer Says

BY SAMUEL M. VAUCLAIN, President of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, in an interview with Edward M. Tibbels for NEA Service, PHILADELPHIA — Business is rapidly getting on a sounder basis in both this country and in Europe. Wholesale signs of a permanent improvement are plentiful here and I observed many during the trip I recently took thru European countries.

Next fall will see us all busy, the considering everything present conditions are very satisfactory. The chief requirement for continued improvement is confidence. Prosperity is coming back. Not later than next October I think we will see more business than at any time in 12 months.

I found Europe in much better shape. There is a scarcity of business there, as here. But we cannot expect 100 per cent business when so much of the world is out of the market or is recovering from the effects of the war.

Germany is the busiest country in Europe because of the low value of the mark. The Germans can contend in the open market because of the relative value of wages and cost of production figured in marks. Their labor rates are ridiculously low, while ours of course are higher than before the war.

These things will gradually be equalized here and help business to improve.

HIGHER SPEED ABROAD
Twenty-five per cent of the world is dead commercially. Russia, for instance, is lying dormant. Of the 75 per cent of the world that is in the market only 50 per cent is active.

In business and industry Europe really is running at higher speed than America. They are operating about 50 per cent capacity, while we are running about 30 per cent.

Indications, however, are that people are being compelled to buy more and more and affairs are reaching a sane and solid foundation. Values are improving. Railroad securities are showing a healthy strength. And the government is displaying a disposition to effect economy. Many people may grumble, but we must give the government a chance. Decisions cannot be made to suit individuals, a particular class or a special business; they must be for the general good.

The value of the dollar is increasing and, I think, will continue to do so. As the purchasing power increases bank interest rates will be lower, food and clothing and railroad rates will be lower, and labor will settle down.

We are miles ahead of where we were a year ago. There is certain suffering, but nothing compared to Europe's. While Europe was getting better, America was getting worse. But we're climbing up again—fast.

ITALIAN SHIPS SEIZED BY GREEK GOVERNMENT

ROME—The situation created by the seizure of Italian ships by the Greek government is becoming more complicated. It was said today the Greeks, besides seizing the steamship Africa, had not given a satisfactory explanation for the continued detention of the Abazia, which was seized a few days ago on the ground that she was carrying contraband of war for the Turkish Nationalist, with whom Greece is at war. An explanation of this seizure was asked by the Italian minister at Athens.

These incidents show again the urgent necessity of solving the problem of the Near East in order to end the Greece-Turkish war, which is interfering with the freedom of commerce of other countries, especially Mediterranean countries.

Why You Need Iron—

To Make You Strong and "Brainy" and Put the Power Into Your Blood To Overcome Disease Germs

The food you eat contains carbon. When your food is digested it is absorbed from the intestines into the blood. When the carbon in your food comes in contact with the oxygen carried by the iron in your blood, carbon and oxygen unite and by doing they give off tremendous energy thereby giving you great force, strength and endurance. Without iron your blood carries no oxygen and without oxygen there is nothing to unite with the carbon in your food, so that what you eat does you no good—you do not get any strength from it—it is like putting coal into a stove without a fire. You cannot get any heat unless the coal unites with the fire.

The strongest weapon with which to prevent and overcome colds, pneumonia, kidney trouble, rheumatism, nervous prostration, to treat almost any disease of disease germs is NUXATED IRON. It enriches the blood—gives you new strength and energy.

FORCED LABOR IS PUT UNDER BAN

Regulations to Protect New Guinea Natives Are Framed

SERVICE TO BE VOLUNTARY

Government Acts With Reference to Mandated Territory

SYDNEY, N. S. W. — (Associated Press) — New regulations will be issued soon for the proper protection of the natives of the mandated territory of New Guinea, it was announced today by government authorities.

A number of ordinances have been issued but experts in territorial conditions have been framing native labor and other regulations for some months. They await the approval of Prime Minister Hughes. The object of the new ordinances is to preserve the rights of both employer and employee.

It is understood the new regulations will provide that service by the native shall be voluntary, that he understands fully the nature of his engagement, that he be treated justly and properly fed and housed. It is probable that some form of penalty will be provided for natives who refuse to work or desert on engagement. Apart from breaking contracts, however, forced labor will not be permitted in the territory.

PLANS CHANGED
Originally it had been intended that natives might be compelled to do certain constructional work designed exclusively for their own benefit, but this decision was deleted as the result of debate in the House of Representatives when the matter was under consideration. Some provision will be made, however, for recruiting labor, probably consisting of arrangements that natives be signed on before a magistrate or other qualified officer and be returned to their homes at the completion of their engagement. The ordinance also will prescribe the rates of wages to be paid and living arrangements.

WOMEN AND MEDICINE
In Europe, years ago, a woman named Hildegard wrote a notable book on medicinal plants. In those days the men were too busy bothering about dogmas of religion and medicine and the study of herbs was thought beneath their notice. It was the women, however, who mostly conducted the hospitals and cared for the sick, and thus they learned much of great value. They let the men fight out the questions of theories.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, prepared almost fifty years ago by a woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, did then, and does now, relieve the ailments peculiar to women. It is a vegetable compound and of great value for this purpose. This is proven day after day, and in your own neighborhood, by grateful women who have used it.—Adv.

ACTIVITY IN TRADE NEAR AT HAND

Situation For Each Quarter of Year Forecast

SPRING BRINGS OPTIMISM
Quiet in Summer, But Good Business at Fall

(BY B. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK — (Special) — Is business on the mend? What rate of improvement should we reckon upon? Where are we likely to stand three months from now, six months from now, nine months from now? This column gives answers worth considering.

A Cleveland business man recently spent a week interviewing all classes of industrial men, bankers, exporters and others, except retailers. He specifically sought and got their views on what they figured would happen each quarter this year. The replies were refreshingly similar. He summed them up for the head of a leading advertising agency in New York as follows:

"The second quarter will see a feeling of confidence and quite a little business activity, not based at all on a spurge. A feeling of optimism will prevail. There will be some business for anybody who has the ability to secure it."

"The third quarter—the summer months—will, as usual, be quiet because of the season. This, however, is to be expected. It occurs annually."

"As for the fourth quarter, everybody agrees that, barring some unexpected developments abroad, the good business which will prevail towards the end of the second quarter will resume with great activity. It is expected to last thru the quarter and follow into the winter months of 1923. The majority expect, at this time, to see very good business indeed."

"As for prices, everybody agrees that today many commodities are selling at a price below their cost to manufacturers while many are still too high. There will be no drastic change in any of these, but a constant series of readjustments, each one helping to stabilize industry as a whole. These will happen so gradually during the year that they will steal upon us unawares."

"The constant series of fluctuating or readjustment prices will make for a good deal of activity in the stock market as railroads and industrialists find their true level."

Their diagnosis was submitted to a large number of responsible business concerns and their comment was invited.

One banker replied:

"If the spring quarter is to show further increase in optimism together with a great activity in business it will be because we slip by certain adverse factors which are not horizon. There is no denying that a soldier's bonus, if passed, would take money away from commercial and industrial uses and to this extent slow up revival. There does not seem to be much fear that funds for the bonus will be called for this spring or this year, but the matter is not yet settled. There is perhaps not a great deal of anxiety about the threatened coal strike on April 1. This, however, is a very important factor, both on account of its own direct effect on industry and because of its influence on the whole labor problem."

"Another important factor is the outcome of the Geneva meeting in April. If confidence in the foreign situation can be maintained, foreign exchange should hold up and American foreign loans should go forward. If, however, it is not, progress must be slow and that European nations cannot get ready to get together strongly on an industrial program, the effect would be adverse. Another factor is our tariff policy. If we try to get everything coming and going, that is, to hold our domestic market in an exclusive way and at the same time try to get the foreign market, we will find that we have been attempting the impossible. "My own personal feeling is that we are not going to run very suddenly into a big business revival, but that we are going to gradually make headway with the many real problems that we have to deal with."

The president of a tool company declares that while manufacturers have been reducing prices rapidly and drastically, retailers have not done so and have thus retarded sales. He adds: "We are taking steps as fast as we can, to see that it is rectified in so far as our particular line goes. A dealer who does not care to work with us along these lines is of no use to us anyway, and the sooner we find it out and get some one to take his place, the better everyone will be satisfied."

A nationally-known food company's reply counts this:

"Your third quarter diagnosis doesn't quite appeal to us, because we do not believe that business is going to be exceptionally quiet during this period. On the other hand, we feel that the optimism which is now spreading over the country is going to carry business along on a gradual increase right thru to the end of the year. Incidentally we plan to show a big increase in sales over any previous year."

Another reply says: "Our contract is with the hardware and automobile accessory trade. We look for considerably increased activity during the second quarter. It may interest you to know that our sales for the first quarter are going to run beyond our expectations."

How do your views compare with these?

$10,000 COLUMBUS GROVE DAMAGE SUIT, RESULT OF BOOZE SEARCH, SETTLED

COLUMBUS GROVE — (Special) — Almost half the citizens of this town had been summoned to testify in the $10,000 damage suit of Joseph Slusser, drayman, against Mrs. Mary J. Tate, wife of Minor Tate, for alleged injury to character and business, set for trial Thursday at Ottawa.

The other half had decided to lay aside business cares and hear the evidence. At the last minute before court opened the case was settled and dismissed.

The court action was based on the search of Slusser's home by the Putnam-sheriff for alleged intoxicating liquors, some months ago, but none was found. Mrs. Tate signed the search warrant. The suit followed.

HATCHET BURIED IN IRELAND TODAY

All Factions Unite in National Festival Celebration

NATION'S GREATEST EVENT

Many Meetings Held by Political Opponents, However

DUBLIN — (United Press) — Ireland celebrated St. Patrick's Day by holding the birth of the Irish free state.

The national festival was utilized for a vigorous campaign thruout Ireland in support of the peace treaty with Great Britain. Speakers everywhere declared this the greatest St. Patrick's Day Ireland had ever known and declared that Erin stood on the threshold of freedom.

Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, went straight to the heart of the disaffection area, south Cork, where he attended several meetings of his constituents. Liam T. Cosgrave, minister of local government in the Dail cabinet, and a member of the provisional government, and Gerald O'Sullivan, adjutant general of the Irish Republican army, addressed a series of free state meetings.

Commandant McKeown was to speak at Mullingar and other midland towns, while further pro-treaty demonstrations were planned for Mayo, Galway and Roscommon. REPUBLICANS BUSY Republican followers of Eamonn De Valera were equally busy. The former "president of the Irish Republic," began a tour of the south. He will address anti-treaty gatherings at Waterford City, Thurles and other centers near Tipperary during the week end.

Demonstrations were planned for Dublin by treaty opponents.

This evening Irishmen of all creeds and factions were to bury the hatchet at the annual banquet here of the Knights of St. Patrick where Ulster men and Sinn Feiners sit together in peace for at least one day in the year. With three dead in Belfast after a day's bombing and street fighting and three men slain in their beds at Galway on the stormy west coast, St. Patrick's Day was ushered in auspiciously but custom has decreed that for this day in the south of Ireland, hostilities shall cease.

NEW YORK CELEBRATES

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — The biggest St. Patrick's Day celebration in the city's history was held today. The feature of the program was a parade up Fifth-ave with a review at the Metropolitan Museum of Art by Archbishop Hayes, Mayor Hylan and other officials. Thirty divisions were arranged, including the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Clon Na-Gael, Friends of Irish Freedom, Irish County organizations, World and Spanish War Veterans. Archbishop Hayes celebrated a solemn pontifical mass at St. Patrick's cathedral.

Organization of the Irish Music Foundation, a non-sectarian, non-political body that aims to foster the ancient folk songs and music of Ireland, was announced today. The foundation seeks to develop musical talent among members of the Irish race, establish a comprehensive library of Irish music and aid in the establishment of a permanent national Irish opera.

WHISTLING, SINGING, IN "MURDERERS' ROW" BANNED IN WAPAKONETA BASTILE

WAPAKONETA — (Special) — Harold Nierengarten, 29, Lima bell boy awaiting sentence on a charge of first degree murder, with a recommendation of mercy, in the Auglaize-co jail here, is so happy he spends almost his entire time in singing and whistling. Nierengarten was elated at a chance to spend the remainder of his life in the penitentiary, instead of being sent to the electric chair. He and Charles Piening, accused of the murder of the Rev. Schweitzerman, a priest at Minster, occupy "murderers' row" in the Auglaize-co jail.

So annoying had their whistling and singing become, it was necessary for Sheriff Bob Ewing to place a ban upon it. Other prisoners complained that the sounds annoyed them.

SUBMITS TO OPERATION Mrs. Lloyd Beerline of Cridersville, is a patient at the City Hospital here, where she submitted to an operation for relief from appendicitis.

WIFE IS CHARGED WITH DESERTION

T. H. Richards Seeks Divorce Answer in Lechleitner Case

Thomas H. Richards, filed suit for divorce from Mrs. Miriam Clark Richards, Summit-co., in common pleas court, Friday. They were married in Gomer on St. Patrick's Day in 1915 and have no children. Desertion is charged by the husband against the wife.

Mrs. Anna Lechleitner, in an answer to the divorce suit of her husband, Carl R. Lechleitner, filed several weeks ago, charges cruelty upon the part of her husband. She says that he frequently slapped her, pulled her out of bed up on the floor and beat and wounded her.

In the night-time and clad only in her night clothing, she was frequently forced to flee to the home of neighbors and friends, she asserts. She charges her husband is most unjust to her when angry and in a state of intoxication.

The petition relates she accompanied him three times to a lawyer's office to sign articles of separation, but that each time, he refused to sign the document.

Lechleitner, in his action, is seeking to have his wife's dower in $1,500 worth of real estate and a similar amount of personal property, barred.

In his action he charged she remained away much of the night time and that she met another man. She frequently called the other man on the telephone and had him visit her in her husband's home while the latter was away, according to the petition. The charge is also made that Lechleitner found the couple together at the home of a Dolphus woman and that on St. Valentine's night, last, they were in Lechleitner's home together.

Lechleitner relates that the actions of his wife have disgraced him.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 10 a. m. at the Methodist church, Allentown. Interment in Allentown cemetery.

ST. PATRICK DAY BRINGS SUNSHINE

Rain forecast continues the favorite refrain of the weatherman, but he postponed the moisture visit until Saturday.

Cloudy tonight, somewhat warmer in northwest portion. Saturday unsettled, probably rain, slightly warmer.

There you have it, all doped out in advance.

If you have faith in the prediction, better look up "overs" and shower sticks for use on the morrow. That the temperature is to be milder is also pleasing information for amateur gardeners who have their plans all worked out on paper.

Nothing will satisfy save the opportunity to stick a spade in backyard soil. Early gardeners report the ground is still too damp for that sort of work. When the earth is worked too early, it clods, they say.

At any rate, it's fine weather for St. Patrick's Day.

OIL LAMP FIRES HOTBED FRAMEWORK; FIRE LADS GET THREE HURRY CALLS

An attempt by Porter Brown, 620 E. Elm-st., to rain a lap on Mother Nature by forcing vegetation of garden plants inside a hotbed with an oil lamp, resulted in partial destruction of the improvised hot-house. Thursday at 11 p. m. The lamp exploded and set fire to the framework. The fire department was called.

A spark from a chimney set fire to the roof of the home of ex-Judge A. D. Miller, 957 W. High-st., tenanted by his son, L. D. Miller, Friday at 10 a. m., and burned a hole two feet square.

Sparks from a chimney caused a small blaze at the home of Mrs. Caskey, 1405 Lake-st., Thursday at 5:20 p. m. Firemen extinguished it with chemicals.

FINAL OBSEQUIES FOR MISS FRISINGER, FRIDAY

Funeral services for Miss Bertha Frisinger, 36, daughter of Mrs. Sylvester Frisinger, 1146 W. High-st., who died Thursday at 10 p. m., will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the High-st. United Brethren church. Interment will be at Allentown.

Miss Frisinger, who was an employee of the Deisel store until recently had been ill five weeks, from a complication of diseases.

Besides the mother, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Claude Zartman and Miss Aileen Frisinger, both of Lima, and two brothers, Lester and Clarence Frisinger, of Logan, Ohio.

The estate of Rev. Isaiah J. Miller, late of Lima, amounted to $27,000, according to papers which have been filed in probate court. Miller died March 12.

He was a retired Lutheran minister and groceryman, residing in the St. James-apts., W. Spring-st.

Of this amount, the St. James apartments, which he owned, is valued at $25,000. Personal effects amount to $2,000.

Clark E. Miller, a son, who was engaged with him in the grocery business, is left the grocery and provision business. He is to have control of the St. James and to pay $800 a year rental to his mother.

Mrs. James W. Halfhill, N. Collett-st., the only daughter, is willed the real estate, in trust for her mother, Mrs. Louisa Miller. At the mother's death, the property is to be divided equally between the brother and sister.

Glen C. Webb, Ernest M. Botkin and George H. Quail were named appraisers.

PUSSYFOOT JOHNSON APPROVES THE QUALITY OF MOONSHINE LIQUOR

WESTERVILLE, Ohio. — (United Press) — The quality of moonshine liquor is all right, Pussyfoot Johnson thinks—it's making prohibition a success.

"I'm not in favor of a move to improve the quality of bootleg booze," the dry leader declared today, in commenting on the possibilities of the beer and light wines question becoming an issue in the congressional campaign this year.

"The agitation comes mostly from those who have been drinking moonshine and want something better. They are afraid of what they are now drinking."

"It's just a political smoke screen and it's too thin to be the paramount issue. The four-power Pacific treaty and soldier bonus will be the issues in the campaign."

CHARGED WITH MURDER EL PASO, TEXAS

EL PASO, Texas. — Charges of murder were filed today against Fred M. McClure, formerly of Cleveland and Tucson, Ariz., in connection with the death of Miss Louise Frenz, 25, of El Paso. The young woman's body was found near her home last Monday night with a bullet wound in her head. Her parents told city detectives that she had gone to fill an engagement with McClure he evening she was killed.

STUDENT'S HEART ON RIGHT SIDE

IOWA CITY, Ia. — If you'd place your hand over Robert A. Culbertson's left side where his heart ought to be, you'd think he's heartless.

But he isn't. His heart's on his right side!

His liver's on his left side. And his thoracic duct is on the wrong side, too. His stomach points in the opposite direction to that preferred by normal stomachs.

But despite all this Culbertson's healthy and happy. He eats three meals a day—and has no trouble digesting them.

Culbertson, a student at the University of Iowa here.

EXPECT 50 BIDS

Half Hundred Contractors Ask For Plans of Disposal Plant

Almost a half hundred contractors have applied for specification and plans for the intercepting sewer system and disposal plant, announcing their intention to bid on all or part of the work April 1.

B. F. Darling, engineer on sewer construction for the city, anticipates that others may apply for the plans before bids are closed two weeks hence.

Departure of a party of city officials for the east, to investigate the process of sewage reduction by electrolysis, may cause some hitch in the plans for the big system.

Should oxidation be adopted as a method of disposal, the plant will be located north of the Erie railroad bridge, engineers state. This will shorten the length of the interceptors considerably.

Change in plans from the sprinkler-filter system of oxidation method will be easy to make, according to Darling. The methods are similar up to a certain point in the disposal process.

BOOZE CARS SEIZED MIAMI, Fla.

MIAMI, Fla. — Appetizers suitable for starting breakfast and ending dinner were found to comprise the contents of two freight cars seized by county sheriffs and railroad police last night on the tracks of the Florida East Coast railroad. One car netted the officers 437 cases of assorted liquors packed in grapefruit and the other 200 cases which had been concealed on a consignment of fresh vegetables.

"I am forever buying Shoes for my children!"

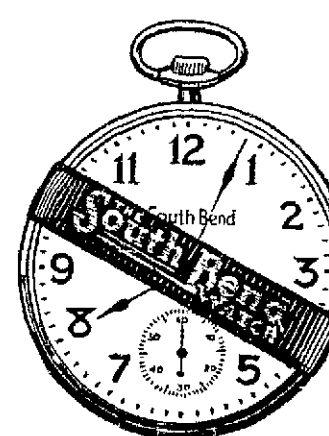

Is the plaint of the mother who buys shoes on price, rather than on reputation.

We are constantly striving to bring prices of our juvenile shoes back to old-time levels. But one thing we have never done, and never will, is to Skimp on Quality.

And so, the complaint which heads this announcement—is less frequently heard from parents whose Boys and Girls always wear Gooding's School Shoes.

John D. Dodge Begins Serving Term in Prison

SENTENCED FOR SPEEDING

Faces Other Charges When He Is Released

DETROIT MICH. — (Associated Press) — John D. Dodge, millionaire son of the late John F. Dodge, automobile manufacturer, today was serving the first day of a sentence in the house of correction for violation of the traffic laws. Dodge pleaded guilty to exceeding the speed limit late yesterday and was ordered by Judge Charles L. Bartlett, along with 21 others convicted of the same charge, to spend five days in the reformatory. A fine of $100 was imposed on Dodge and his driver's license was revoked.

When Dodge completes his sentence he is to face a charge in Kalamazoo of illegally transporting liquor and a suit of $10,000 filed here on behalf of a newspaper boy alleged to have been injured by Dodge's automobile.

CIGARETS TAKEN
At the house of correction, where reception of motorists of all standing has become a common occurrence since Judge Bartlett launched a campaign against reckless drivers, the formalities were not altered in any way last night to admit the young millionaire. He was registered, donned the prison garb consisting of a striped shirt, a pair of overalls and heavy shoes and assigned to a cot in the cell blocks. When the lights-out signal was sounded he was listening to the sympathetic conversation of a fellow prisoner.

Loss of his cigarettes apparently was the only thing that troubled Dodge.

"You will have to wait until you earn your tobacco here," the receiving officer told him as he deprived the prisoner of his cigarettes. This morning, after being vaccinated, young Dodge set about earning his smokes.

SAFE IS RIFLED BY BANDITS

Cashier of Street Car Company at Toledo Held Up

GANG ESCAPES WITH $2,000

General News Items Gathered From Ohio Cities

TOLEDO — (Associated Press) — Three armed bandits early today invaded the offices of the East Side Car barn, of the Community Traction company, and after forcing the cashier, F. D. Brooks, to lie face downward on the floor, rifled the safe of the entire day's receipts, amounting to approximately $2,000 and escaped.

Brooks told police he heard no sound of any one arriving in an automobile and the first he was aware of the bandits' presence was when he was commanded to lie on the floor. The bandits departed as quietly as they came and none of the several persons employed about the barns knew of the robbery until Brooks gave the alarm. He was unable to give a description of the bandits. No trace of the men has been found.

Best Cough Mixture Is Home Made

Acts With Speed—Loosens the Phlegm—Stops the Irritation and Coughing Ceases

Fine for Chest Colds Too and Is Cheaply Made at Home.

When you can make, in two minutes, a world beating remedy that acts directly on the membrane and often over-night cures stubborn coughs and even hard chest-colds to disappear, why trifle with things that will probably disappoint?

Hawking and snuffling and also soreness of the mucous membrane go and you will feel fine in almost no time. Just get one ounce of Peppermint (double strength) add to it a little sugar and enough hot water to make a half pint and you've got an inexpensive remedy better than you can buy ready mixed.

Its soothing, healing action on the membrane is the reason so many people use it for Catarrh and acute sinus colds.—Adv.

NEW INTEREST IN ST. PATRICK'S DAY

brought About by Changed Conditions in Ireland

By JAMES A. DEERY
National President Ancient Order of Hibernians

St. Patrick's Day, this year, will be celebrated in all parts of the world with renewed interest and enthusiasm. This is due to the great change that was brought about in Anglo-Irish relations by the establishment of the Irish Free State.

The celebrations, this year, will therefore recognize the Irish Free State as the biggest step taken by the Irish people toward their ultimate goal—complete independence—since the landing of the invaders. St. Patrick is honored today, not only because of his missionary work in Ireland but on account of his contribution to civilization thruout the world.

He was past 50 years of age when he returned to Ireland with the commission to preach the gospel. No other apostle met with the same success as St. Patrick did in Ireland. The entire nation embraced Christianity without the shedding of a drop of blood.

At the time of their conversion the Irish people were highly civilized. St. Patrick spent well-nigh half a century preaching the Gospel to the Irish people during which time he built many churches and monasteries and established schools of learning.

To Chief Dawson

DEAR MORT: There is evidence that an automobile of your department was used this week for a joy-ride and that it came to grief. Motor equipment in the safety department is for service and not for pleasure purposes. Will you please see that it is employed only in the manner in which it is intended?

LIMA BEANE

To General Byng

DEAR CLARENCE: Wagons hauling dirt along my streets scatter a large amount of it on the pavement. I understand there is an ordinance requiring vehicles with tight boxes to be used for this kind of work. Will you kindly look after this?

LIMA BEANE

To My Irish Friends

THIS day, the anniversary of the birth of the Patron Saint of Ireland, is an appropriate time for the voicing of a sentiment that surges in the heart of most every American.

All America rejoices with you, as sons and daughters of Erin, or the descendants of Irish parents, that the Emerald Isle has attained a great measure of freedom from Great Britain and that a prosperous, happy and tranquil future appears to be in store for the people of the isle.

I am uniting with you in paying tribute to the memory of St. Patrick, who did so much for his native sod.

LIMA BEANE

To Amateur Gardeners

MY FRIENDS: I trust that you have not lost your enthusiasm for spading up the back yard and preparing the soil for the reception of seed for lettuce and onion and radish beds.

It's fine exercise and will also aid in cutting down living costs—provided the neighbor's chickens do not separate the seed from the soil.

LIMA BEANE

To Perry Grange Members

DEAR FRIENDS: The plan you are carrying into effect, to bring together representatives of the city and country, for a better mutual understanding is worthy of the highest commendation.

Much of the misunderstanding can be eliminated by city folks attending your open meetings. Other rural organizations might profitably adopt your plan, while assemblies in the city should be open to rural residents, to as great an extent as possible.

LIMA BEANE

To Renters

FRIENDS: I have often spoken to you concerning the desirability of owning your own home. At this particular time I must repeat that Lima is one of the finest cities in the world in which to own an abode and that this is the time to buy. There are many reasons why you should buy now. You will do well to heed this advice.

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Police

DEAR BOYS: Manager Bingham's request that you watch over, with extra care, my school kiddies playing in the streets, is timely. I trust that you will give your best cooperation in saving them from the danger of being injured by autos and other vehicles.

"Sorry, but I'm as crowded as the alcoholic wing of a hospital," said Landlord Gabe Crow, this mornin', when a stranger tried to register. We didn't recall when it was quite a compliment to say, 'somebody, made a bully speech'.

es, the first from my wife's hot-house. In fine fettle very brave in a new checked shirting, brought me from abroad by a friend. Down the meadow seeing many noble ladies in satisfied vanity. And taking so little to please them, methinks husbands should the more do towards granting their scintillant desires.

Met, waved, stopped and chatted with Capt. Thompson, busied in getting the Rotary club ball team in southern training quarters. The Capt has selected New Bremen, Saw Frank Downing, ex-politician, still holding about the county committee. No hint that old Allen-co will secede from Columbus. Spoke in fine friendliness to Dr. Oliver Steiner, the surgeon. Gave the stop and listen signal to Mont. Wingate, the police captain, but he drove right thru the gates. Wanted to interview him on the results of the recent slumming tour of the P. Wayne detective and a city official. Rumored they found seven places to buy liquor in overalls. Couldn't trust local officers to do the slumming. There may be something in that, as seven drinks of nowadays stuff would violate any trust. And make even a detective think he were a Roma drinkable.

So home to take my wife, poor wretch, in her Soulie sports skirt to Just complaint is being made against the condition of our trunk roads by Lima merchants. It is claimed it is impossible to go to any nearby city in safety. Here and there the roads are so soft that a machine goes in to the hubs.

The bank statements issued under the call of the Comptroller, and published this week, are taken as reflecting very satisfactory monetary conditions. Borrowed money was quite negligible, altho county distribution or apportionment of funds had, not, at the date of the call, been made. Building & Loans, however, are not accumulating funds to any appreciable degree.

In connection with the new Quilna theatre, a cigar store has already been opened in the east room. Paramount Pictures will be shown at the Quilna as soon as the organ is assembled.

Petitions for paving at least ten streets not as yet included in the published lists, will be made during the next few weeks. Extensions of the new boulevard lighting system are also to be asked by property owners of residence streets.

HOW TO AVOID SPRING FEVER

There will come balmy days soon when the pleasant weather will sap all the strength from your muscles and that tired feeling we call "spring fever" will lay hold on you. Our grandmothers at this time would always go to the shelf and bring down the spring tonic. Or they would send us out for some special herbs which would be brewed as a tonic.

What value these home remedies had lay in digging for them in long tramps in the open air.

Fresh air and exercise is the best tonic for "spring fever."

One of the best ways for the average city man to take this Mother Nature tonic is by planting a garden.

No matter how small the plot, it will serve the purpose by taking you out into the open air and by giving you exercise thru digging and hoeing and planting.

Working regularly in the garden will relieve that mental and physical condition that makes you feel only half alive—that chronic grouchingness, "sluggish liver" and general run down condition in which winter often leaves the body.

And if your garden is a good one you will get more strength and stamina from radishes and onions than from all the assafras tea you can drink. There is a tonic, too, in young Irish potatoes cooked with jackets on.

Hoe-handle medicines will not cure all diseases, but it is better for preventing and curing "spring fever" than medicine out of a bottle.

CAN'T GET RID OF HIS $1,000

CHICAGO—John R. Thompson, millionaire chain restaurant owner, is trying to get rid of $1,000. And he can't!

Last year Thompson offered $1,000 to anyone who could show him a valid reason why a revolver should be tolerated. Thompson held it they're really useful only to crooks.

Now Thompson is buried daily under an avalanche of letters from claimants of the $1,000. Often he gets 1,000 letters postmarked from Alaska to Maine in one day.

But no one has qualified for the $1,000 award.

THE HUMAN RACE

I've met 'em all along the road From Portland, Ore., to Portland, Me.;

I've met 'em in their own abode, I've met 'em in a ship at sea; Rich, poor, of high and low degree, Ugly or fair of form and face, And in the main, wherever they be, I like the well-known Human Race.

There are some who break the code

Of thoughtfulness and courtesy, Mostly I've met the sort who show a ready generosity;

White, black, the Malay and Chinese, Somewhere within their hearts you trace

Something to which love is the key; I like the well-known Human Race.

True, there are those who bear a load

Of crime and sin and misery, And those who reap, but never sow, Who grab, and gouge most greedily;

And there are bores from whom I flee, And fools whose folly grows apace; But on the whole—twist me and thee— I like the well-known Human Race!

Envy

It's all made up of such as we, Just mortals, very far from grace; But viewed with eyes of malice free, I like the well-known human race.

FUTURE BRIGHT FOR IRELAND

St. Patrick's Day Augurs Happiness For Future

BY JOHN KEVILLE

Grand Knight of Lima Council, Knights of Columbus.

St. Patrick's Day this year augurs more happiness for Ireland than any St. Patrick's Day I have ever known. I desire to echo the sentiment expressed by James A. Flaherty, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus.

With all its defects, the present system of autonomy which England was obliged to grant Ireland has merits sufficient to give a test, admitted that it does not give the Irish people the extent of their just claim—absolute independence. But it must be considered that the English mind has undergone a marked conversion to common sense when it came back to its old Tory traditions to the degree it has.

PRIZE FOR LEADERS

Naturally, those who have suffered and fought for complete independence for Ireland feel disappointed. But many of the t and most unselfish leaders of the Irish people are identified with the administration of the Irish Free State.

Certainly, the cause of Ireland throughout the world has been aided and the prestige of the cause immeasurably increased by the demonstration of statesmanship and military acumen of the Irish leaders. Weak and tortured they were yet able to bring the heads of the world's mightiest empire to terms.

The Knights of Columbus rejoice that the slaughter in Ireland has been halted, and they look forward to the common sense that England has shown being shown also in Ulster—for there the seat of the Irish trouble lies.

EFFECT OF FREEDOM

An immediate reaction to the settlement of the Irish trouble has been the large number of appeals to the Knights of Columbus on the part of men of Irish descent in the United States and Canada, who desire to return to Ireland to help the Irish Free State, and who ask the K. of C. to aid them find work there.

Personally, I look for a prosperous Ireland—if England remains steadfast to her promise. If any future English government disavows Lloyd George's agreement with Ireland, I look for disaster worse than any in Ireland's history.

But with a square deal on now on I look for Ireland to develop into a nation of from 10 to 15 millions, prosperous, contented, independent, and a blessing to all the world—even to her old-time oppressor.

CONSTIPATION

MADE BAD HEART
Gas In Stomach and Bowels Caused Dangerous Pressure

Here is the story of one man who realized only too well the dangers of stomach and bowel disorder and sought relief for five years as he told one of our representatives he was very nervous and terribly run down due to serious stomach trouble and constipation. His formed on his stomach after eating, bloating him greatly and causing pressure in the abdomen that affected his heart so that he suffered greatly from palpitation, and intermittent beats. With this he had severe headaches and constant twinges of rheumatism that gave him a great deal of pain. He tried various doctors and so-called remedies without relief. Then he read one of our advertisements, and bought a bottle of Nerv-Worth and found immediate relief—before he had taken half the bottle he was better and when telling his story he claimed to be entirely well, in fact in better health than he had enjoyed in many years.

You can get this famous remedy at almost any drug store. It is always on sale at the drug stores in this city, and every druggist is authorized to give the money back if the first bottle does not show encouraging results. It aids digestion, sweetens the stomach, preventing sour fermentation and excess acid, heartburn and "hiccups." No more gas float. It is fine for delicate women and sickly children because of its mild yet always effective action and pleasant taste.

Nerv-Worth is sold and recommended by Hunter's Drug Store, Lima; C. M. Young, Van Wert; Gasson's Drug Store, Lima; Drug Store, Canton; Powell's Pharmacy, Bellefontaine; Minzola, Defiance; King & Stallkamp, Delphos, Ohio.

HAYS MAKES INAUGURAL ADDRESS AS MOVIE CHIEF

NEW YORK — The motion picture industry looks upon the demands made upon it by the American public as a challenge, which are accepted to the ultimate, declared Will H. Hays, the new chief of the industry, in addressing a meeting here last night.

A gathering of more than 1,000 persons, including more screen stars than were ever before assembled in one play, heard Mr. Hays deliver his "inaugural address" on taking up the duties of the position for which he resigned from President Harding's cabinet.

"The industry accepts the challenge," he said, "in the demand of the American youth that its pictures shall give the right kind of entertainment and instruction. It accepts the challenge in the righteous demand of American mothers that the entertainment and amusement of that youth be worthy of their value as the most important factor in the country's future. The opportunity is great, and so in like measure is the responsibility. That responsibility is accepted."

NEW HIGH SCHOOL IS DECLARED FAULTY

YOUNGSTOWN — The architect and contractors who built the new Rayen high school here, today were preparing their reply to the report made by the Hunt company, engineers of Pittsburgh and Chicago, after an investigation of charges that the building was improperly constructed. The report, presented to the school board, says the specifications were improperly drawn, the building badly constructed, and named sixteen specific faults in construction. The school board have the architect and contractors until Monday to make proposals for rectifying the faults.

FORD MEN LAUGH AT STRIKE TALK

His Miners Drawing $3 Above The Union Scale

HOW IT IS DONE EXPLAINED

Doing Away With Middleman Profit, Manager Says

BY HAL COCHRAN
KENTON, Ky.—(Special)—A national coal strike? It isn't worry- ing Henry Ford. Not any more than the threatened 1921 railroad strike worried him.

For Ford had his own railroad then—and he has his own coal mines here now!

The United Mine Workers headquarters at Knoxville, Tenn., recently announced that when the coal strike comes the Ford mines will continue in operation.

This is because the Ford mines are working on a strict eight-hour basis, and drawing pay that averages close to $3 a day more than the ordinary mine pay.

How can Ford afford to do this? Abner Lunsford, general manager of the Ford mines, explains:

"Simply by doing away with what you might call the middleman profits."

"The coal is carried by the Louisville & Nashville railroad (Cincinnati, Tenn. via the Pennsylvania or the Big Four to Toledo or Springfield, O. That taken to Springfield, the most central point of Ford's own railroad, the Detroit, Toledo & Iron- ton, is used on that road as fuel. That taken to Toledo is distributed, via Ford's own railroad to the various Ford plants for use as fuel."

LUMP COAL SOLD
"Possibly 25 per cent of the coal output, at present, is sold for domestic use. This is in large lumps that cannot be used for plant or railroad fuel unless broken up."

"We can sell one ton of large coal for the price of two tons of the kind we use. Hence we save by selling the large size."

"No matter what the coal market may do, Ford's coal keeps coming in. The rise and fall of price does not affect his plants or his railroad."

"Steadiness of a market means a big saving in this. Hence the larger salaries."

Ford's two mines employ some 275 miners. Six days a week they turn out 2200 tons of coal daily.

Practically the same miners have been on the job ever since Ford purchased the mines.

A group of these miners were waiting at the general offices to make out their income tax reports.

"Any jobs open in this hollow?" I asked one of the young men.

"Not in the Ford mine," he replied. "Many of the men in other mines are anxious to get on here. The talk of strike isn't worrying us. We are satisfied—that's why there's a waiting list for jobs in our mine."

Ford purchased the mines from the Banner Fork Coal Corporation in July 1920. He still operates under that name, but he owns 100 per cent of the stock.

CURRENT EVENTS: MORE HELPFUL DISCUSSION FOR CHILDREN IN SCHOOL

Look at the headlines in your newspaper tonight. You'll see that people are interested in three big things. Each of these things is hap- pening on a different continent.

ONE: India's struggle for freedom. That's in Asia.

TWO: Trouble in the British gov- ernment. That's in Europe.

THREE: A bonus or grant of money for United States soldiers. That's in America.

INDIA WANTS FREEDOM
India is a long way from the United States—on the other side of the world. But we are interested in what happens there because it will affect the British Empire, one of the world's great powers.

India is one-third as big as the United States, but has almost three times as many people. These people are of many different races and many different religions and do not agree.

Because of this disagreement the people of India have not been able to rule themselves. Since 1757—165 years ago, Great Britain has ruled India.

A native of India, called Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi (pronounced Moo-han-das Ka-rahm-chand Ghan- dee), believes India should be free, and since the World War ended, Gandhi has become a very powerful man. Today he is the leader of all the nationalists, or natives of India who believe they should be free.

Now the British have arrested Gandhi and his followers are angry. The British fear they will start a revolution to put the British out of India.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT TROUBLES
Trouble in India is making trouble for the British government at home in England.

David Lloyd George has been prime minister or chief executive of the British government since 1916. He is head of the British cabinet.

Now one member of the cabinet has quit. He is Edwin S. Montagu, secretary for India.

Montagu resigned because of a disagreement in policy with British officials in India. This has weakened Lloyd George's cabinet.

Lloyd George became a prime min- ister in 1916 because several political parties banded together and formed what is called a coalition to support him.

Now some of the political parties that joined the coalition are threat- ening to leave it.

If they did, it would mean that Lloyd George would have to resign and a new cabinet or government would take the place of the one he formed.

THE SOLDIERS' BONUS
When the United States was in the World War thousands of soldiers, sailors and marines served their coun- try and received $30 a month as pay while other men at home made much more money.

Many people believe the govern- ment should make this up by giving soldiers a grant of land or money. Such a grant would be called adjust- ed compensation or bonus.

President Harding wants to pay the bonus and raise the money by means of a sales tax. Congress is opposed to a sales tax.

A sales tax is a tax charged whenever one person sells something to someone else—whenever a thing is "turned over," as merchants say.

Thus, when the manufacturer sells his product to the wholesaler, a small tax would be paid; when the whole- seller passed it on, another tax would be paid and so on until it reached the consumer.

Of course, the tax might not be levied on every turnover but only on certain ones, the law would specify.

Congress now is planning to pass the bonus bill and give soldiers, sailors and marines land at once if they want it.

But if the soldiers want money, under this plan, they would be given certificates for the amount due them which would be paid later, when the government has the money.

TRAINMAN KILLED
VAN WERT—Harry Munday, 31 this city, brakeman on the Cincin- nati Northern railroad, died soon after being run down by a cut out of cars at Lewisburg, while assist- ing in switching. Munday was a native of England and was soldier in the World War.

KILLER REFORMED BY OPERATION

Former Hardened Criminal Made Into Upright Man

BULLET TAKEN FROM BRAIN

Illinois Prisoner May Win Freedom Thru Surgeon's Knife

By ROY GIBBONS
STATESVILLE, Ill. — (Special) — Benjamin Bucker, once a "gorilla man" and "demon killer," whose just to crush out the lives of those he hated with his powerful hairy hands made hardened prison guards quake with fear, today is an upright man and a model prisoner!

Bucker's plea for a pardon now is before the State Board of Pardons. He may soon leave the new penitentiary here where he's serving a life term for murder and take his place in honest society as a teacher.

SURGEONS BRING CHANGE
This change was wrought almost overnight by the magic of the surgeon's knife.

Prison doctors learned that a large caliber rifle bullet was lodged in the left lobe of Bucker's brain, unknown to Bucker. It had been there 25 years.

Physicians decided to remove the lead pellet. They prepared the operating table.

A cursing, kicking, evil-eyed "gorilla man" was subdued by the fumes of ether.

And when the ether fumes died away a calm, contented prisoner came to consciousness on his white hospital cot.

BECOMES DOCTILE
The incorrigible prisoner of old—the man guards feared to cross—became a docile, easily handled prisoner.

The strength of his surgical reformation, he begged for a pardon.

Of Bucker's past life he remembers little.

He knows that he was born in Calahoula Parish, La., 40 years ago, that he had no trouble with the police as a boy.

At 15 he was working in Memphis, Tenn. One night, he dimly recalls, a fight took place. Maybe he was a participant, maybe a bystander.

Anyway, when he regained consciousness in a hospital, attendants told him he had been shot several times. They said they had removed all the bullets.

ONE BULLET FORGOTTEN
But they'd forgotten one—the one lodged in Bucker's brain—wandered far and wide through the country. The embedded bullet had dropped a curtain between the lobes of his brain.

Sometimes a gray mist would rise before his eyes. He could think of nothing but evil.

And he would kill—crush with his big, hairy hands!

It was in that way that he killed Asbury Thomas, a fellow workman, at Waukegan, Ill., in 1905.

TO PRISON FOR LIFE
The state couldn't hang him for it because it couldn't prove a motive. So Bucker was sent to the penitentiary for life.

Then came the operation. And now—perhaps a pardon.

Bucker wants to be a teacher. He says he's well enough educated to become one.

ST. GERARD'S DRAMATIC CLUB TO PRESENT FIRST ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT

Rev. James P. Clark, pastor of St. Gerard's Catholic church, Main-st. and Robb-av., has inaugurated a new social movement in the parish by the establishment of a dramatic club among the young people.

Members will give their initial entertainment Friday evening, which will take the form of a St. Patrick's day celebration. Three sketches will be given, entitled, "The Matrimonial Advertisement," "When Faith Comes Across the Waters" and "Reception Day at the Settlement House."

Mrs. Ruth Yost-Hoffman will open the program with a violin number, with Mrs. T. J. Shanahan as accompanist; Patricia O'Connell will favor with a reading; Mrs. Maurice Foley will give a vocal solo, "Colleen O'Shea"; Mrs. Mary Flager will sing, accompanied by Miss Annantwell.

Taking part in the sketch, "A Matrimonial Advertisement" will be George Pohable and Margaret Flanagan. The scene is laid in the lobby of Hotel Norval Characters in the sketch, "When Faith Comes Across the Waters" will be impersonated by Arthur Zink, J. H. Kelly, Charles D. O'Connell, P. J. O'Brien. The scene is laid in a library.

Taking part in the sketch, "Reception Day at the Settlement House" will be Eileen O'Brien, Mary Toomey, M. M. O'Connell, Mary O'Neill, C. McFarland, M. Shanahan, Margaret Flanagan, Dorothy Scrumine, Marcella Eitz, Winona Scully and Rose Shanahan, and the reception room of a New Thought Settlement house is the scene of the play.

St. Gerard's auditorium has been a scene of the occasion. A score of unemployed workmen of the parish donated their services. Carpenters, painters, electricians and decorators have transformed the place.

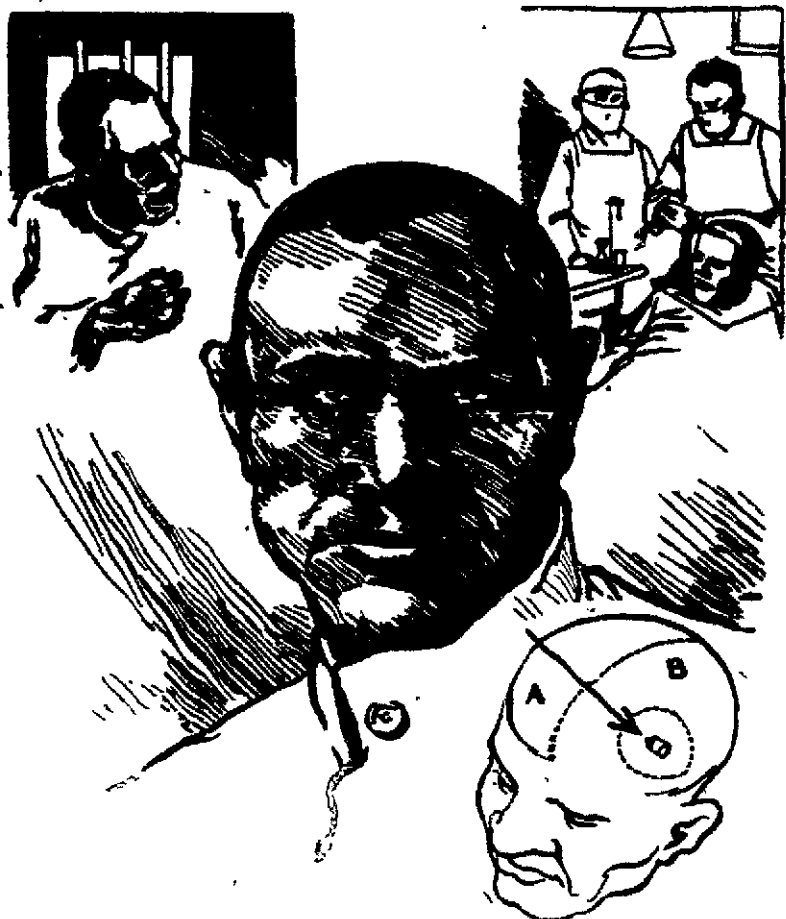

The most modern devices have been installed for the production of every possible stage effect. Father Clark states the new curtain is a gift from one of the parishioners of St. Gerard's.

PAYS BET IN CABBAGE
CHICAGO — A wager made a year ago by Michael F. Maloney, 40, twenty years manager of a large downtown restaurant, that if Ireland became a free state within a year, he would serve corned beef and cabbage on St. Patrick's Day for 15 cents was fulfilled today.

A special dispensation from the pope had eliminated the day from the list of fast days during the Lenten season.

POLICEMAN SENTENCED
CLEVELAND — William Knack, a special policeman in Lakewood, was sentenced to a year in prison and fined $500 today for an attack on a sixteen-year-old girl.

INSURANCE RATES MAY BE CUT

Underwriters to Advance Lima From Sixth to Fifth Class

Fire insurance rates in Lima may be sliced liberally as result of investigations being made here by J. H. Howland, New York, represent the National Fire Underwriters' association. Howland held a conference with Manager Bingham and Superintendent Charles Evans of the waterworks department Friday.

He was pleased to learn that Lima is considering making water main extensions as recommended a year ago by underwriter's engineers. The extensions are to cost $190,000.

No survey of the city has been made for the purpose of fixing insurance rates for five or six years, it is stated.

Lima is now rated in the sixth class. Howland assured Manager Bingham that if the information given him was verified by his observations here, he would recommend that the city be advanced to the fifth class.

This will mean substantial reductions in fire insurance and will benefit every property owner in the city.

Howland spent the day Friday looking over fire hazards here in company with Superintendent Evans.

When he returns east he will take with him a copy of the proposed building code prepared by the Chamber of Commerce committee, and will present the measure to I. H. Wilson, chief engineer in New York. Specifications in the code were praised by Howland. Its adoption, in part at least, he said will materially aid the city and will decrease the fire menace.

MERGER OF LEADING THEATRES IS PLANNED

CHICAGO — A number of leading theatres and theatrical productions of the United States will be merged under one centralized management, according to the Chicago Herald and Examiner, which today printed what it termed plans for a $100,000,000 combine.

According to the newspaper, A. L. Erlanger and J. J. and Lee Shubert, who negotiated a merger of their respective interests here last week, are negotiating with Charles B. Dillingham, Al H. Woods, Florenz Ziegfeld, Sam Harris, George M. Cohan, the Selwyns and others to join them.

The proposed merger, it was said, specifically aims at elimination of needless building of new theatres, overlapping of existing ones and exhibitions in the same city of similar types of attractions simultaneously.

GRID CONTEST IS MOVIE FEATURE

El Karan Grotto Film in the Making—Cast of Characters

The beautiful interior of the residence of V. L. Russell, 649 W. Market-st., will form a part of the setting for the big motion picture feature film being made in Lima under auspices of El Karan Grotto, N. J.

Cameramen commenced shooting the interiors Friday.

Mrs. Ralph Austin has been selected to portray the role of Nellie French, opposite Jack Swift, played by Judge Emmett J. Jackson.

To present this role, Jackson may have to drop of few years by sacrificing his mustache. His part is that of a football player.

Other interiors are to be taken at the Minor Keltner home, W. North-st., Friday afternoon, and there will be some footage ground out in the downtown district.

The great football game, the climax of the film, will be taken at Central-laf. Saturday morning. The last scene will show Rev. Canby in the act of lifting the hero and heroine for life—in the movies.

The cast of characters: Nellie French, Mrs. Ralph Austin; Jack Swift, Judge Emmett Jackson; Johnny Joe, Charles V. Hageman; Nancy Jones, Mrs. Harley Holm; Dr. French, J. COMMISSIONERS, MANAGER INVESTIGATE OXIDATION

Manager C. A. Bingham and Commissioners Ellis Jones and Harold Cunningham left for Allentown, Pa., Friday to investigate the oxidation plant there.

A conference was held Thursday by the commission, the city manager, J. K. Gelsy and Engineer B. F. Darling, regarding the utility of the process for sewage disposal.

Assurances were given the commission that the electrolysis method is superior to the present plans.

Auditor Evan O. Sellers announced that change to the system would in no wise delay financing of the work.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IS FEATURED BY SOCIAL AFFAIRS

SPRING tang is in the air—at least the delightful rays of the sun and the glorious and inspiring weather proclaims the official departure of the Storm King.

Celebration of St. Patrick's Day has afforded an opportunity for a number of informal affairs. Quite a few parties were enjoyed during the fore part of the week while several others have been arranged for Friday evening.

The Elks' Home will be the scene of an attractive gathering Friday evening when a dance will be given in celebration of St. Patrick's Day. On this same evening Mrs. Elmer Roberts, of N. Collett-st., will welcome a group of guests at her home for an informal gathering. The Young People's Bible Class of Trinity M. E. church will gather at the church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock for a St. Patrick's Day party, while the members of the Blue Bell club will entertain with a St. Patrick's Dinner at the Hotel Barr at 6 o'clock.

Two interesting events for Saturday are the afternoon recital to be given at Memorial Hall under the auspices of the artistic committee of the Women's Music club for the pleasure of school students of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades held mothers and teachers and the luncheon to be given at the Hotel Barr by the United Church Women of this city. Mrs. Henry G. Peabody, of Boston will be the speaker. She will have for her subject, the "Education of the Orient."

Mrs. C. M. Priestap, of S. Central-av., opened her home to the members of the Stella Rehearsal lodge, Wednesday in honor of the members, whose birthday anniversaries occur this month. At noon an elaborate luncheon was served. Following the luncheon Mrs. Lucia W. Walters and Mrs. Edith Loring favored with piano numbers and in enjoyable contests, Mrs. Byers and Mrs. Charles Hageman were successful.

Those present included Mesdames Sophia McIlvann, Lottie Cosart, Alice Hageman, Kate McIlvann, Edna Har-ison, May Brown, Clara Bates, Matilda Ross, Lulu Lutz, Rose Daniels, Edith Loring, Marie Whartman, Mary Hall, Rose Loring, Helen Brown, Helen Kraft, Eva W. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cummings, of Holmes-av., April 13th.

Miss Blanche Finicle, a vocalist and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira E. Finicle, of this city, gave a de-lightful recital recently in Tipton, Ind., at the home of Mrs. Arthur Kason.

The Tipton Daily paper says of Miss Finicle: "With every number her audience became more convinced that they were listening to a color-ful singer of unusual ability. Her manner is pleasing, her personality charming, her voice is both power-ful and beautiful and her work throughout is that of an artist. She has come to Tipton to secure a class in vocal training. It is unusual for a city the size of Tipton to have an artist of her ability and it is a rare opportunity for anyone who has a voice, to study at home."

Miss Finicle is a graduate of Western College. She has studied at the Whitney Studios of Platform Art in Boston, the University Studios in Chicago, and with Dr. Krieger and Mme. Arendt. She has toured for four years in chautauqua work during which time she has sung throughout a large territory in Canada and 20 of the states.

Complimenting Miss Emma Hill, bride-elect of Ames Long, an attrac-tive miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Mrs. Willis A. Steiner, of Grand-av., Thursday eve-ning.

A pretty color scheme of green and white was used throughout the rooms and at the conclusion of the delightful evening a delicious lun-cheon was served. Artistic Japa-nese parasols were presented as a-vors.

Those present for the evening in-cluded Miss Emma Hill, the honor-guest; Misses Myrtle Haeger, Frances Hehr, Virginia Streeter, Blanche Peck, Martha Schneider, Marie Muehlbauer, Betty Snook, Elsie and Lavina Flammer, Lena Stelzer, Hel-en, Bertha and Clara Hoegner, Mrs. D. L. Baum, Mrs. Orville Lisk, Mrs. Joseph Ring, Mrs. T. W. Hoegner-mann, Mrs. M. Summers, Mrs. John Tohle, Mrs. Ernest Hill, Mrs. J. L. Reese, Mrs. A. L. Moethney, Mrs. Val Hill, Mrs. Fred Hoegner and Mrs. Steiner.

Mrs. F. T. Cuthbert, of W. Mar-ket-st., welcomed the members of the Fortnightly Bridge club at her home Thursday. A prettily appointed 1 o'clock luncheon was served and in the bridge playing Mrs. Warren Laughlin held high score among the members and Miss Nella Hol-land among the guests.

The substitutes for the afternoon were Mrs. Harry S. Moulton, Mrs. John E. Galvin, Mrs. J. E. Sullivan, Mrs. W. Holmes Mackenzie, Mrs. Fred E. Gooding, Mrs. T. N. Cun-ningham and Misses Nella and Cora Holland.

The next meeting of the club will be held in two weeks with Miss Ger-tude Finley, of S. West-st.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Boose wel-comed a group of guests at a six o'clock dinner at their suburban home the fore part of the week. Places were arranged for Mr. and Mrs. H. C. SUSIE SMAR'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:
I am going to ask you to help me. I am a recent bride and am very hap-pily married, but there is one thing that has been bothering me and I am going to ask you if you will please help me. Not so very long ago my husband introduced me to an old friend of his. This man and my hus-band were boy chums and they have always been the best of friends. This man seems to have taken a great lik-ing to me. Not that he has ever said anything wrong to me, but just the way he looks at me. He is a very nice man but I am afraid that some day this may break up our home. I love my hus-band. What do you think of this man's actions and what would you advise me to do? I must confess that he does thrill me somewhat.

BORRIS
THE first thing I would advise you to do, would be to get over your conceit. That is your chief trouble. This man prob-ably cares nothing about you, ex-cept that you are the wife of his friend. If he cared for you in any other way he would probably have made it known to her in some way. The best thing for you to do is to remember that you are very fortune-date in being happily married and to cease thinking about this man. Be a wise young woman and keep your "thrills" and "heart thump-ings" for your husband.

Dear Miss Smart:
(1) Will you please give me the meaning of these names: (a) Helen, (b) Marie and (c) William? (2) What are the best kind of slippers for ladies? (3) What color dress would be nice for Easter?

FRITZ
(1) (a) Light, (b) bitter and (c) resolute helmet. (2) Much depends upon age as to what kind of slippers would be desirable and suitable. The black patent leather slippers seem to be extremely popu-lar this season both for the younger and older girls. The "eels," known as the Junior Louis, are good look-ing and sensible as well. (3) There are so many, many lovely and attrac-tive colors, being shown in the new spring apparel that it is really quite difficult to know just what to de-cide upon. If you want a dress for service as well as for "dress up" occasions it would be wise for you to get a dark color. Among the popular colors for spring are henna, periwinkle, brown, pekin, canna, flame, navy blue and rust.

Mrs. Warren J. Dunham returned to her home in Dayton Thursday evening after an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Borkin, of Brice-av. Mrs. Borkin is a daughter of Mrs. Dunham.

Miss Robert R. Moorman, of S. Collett-st., will welcome the Mothers' Jewels of Trinity M. E. church at her home Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Glen J. Chenoweth, of S. Elizabeth-st., is the guest of Mrs. W. F. Landis, of Wapakoneta.

Miss Dorothy Collins, of S. Cole-st., is the guest of friends in Toledo.

WHITENING IVORY
When ivory becomes yellow or dusty wash it well in soap and water. Use a small brush to clean the carvings and then put, while wet, in the sunshade. Wet it with soapy water for two or three days several times a day, still keeping it in the sunshade. Then wash again and it will be quite white.

WHIPPED CREAM
Whipped cream will remain stiff if one teaspoon of dissolved gelatine is whipped into one-half pint of whip-ping cream.

WATERPROOF SOLES
If the soles of walking shoes are dipped into melted wax once in three or four weeks they will last twice as long and be waterproof. A small brush will provide enough wax for a dozen pairings.

LENGTHENING DRESSES
One clever mother of a growing daughter uses gauze bandage as a-fairing when her child's frocks have to be lengthened. The bandage does not shrink and has the advantage of being evenly cut.

By MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK — And occasionally one finds on the newest of frocks something reminiscent of the days when a bertha fluttered at the shoulders of every gown that laid any claim to smartness. This Claire frock of palest lavender Canton crepe wears a two-tiered semi-bertha of chiffon edged and decorated with finely pleated taffeta. Such a shoulder treatment natu-rally calls for the fullest of skirts and this too is ornamented with fine pleatings which extend quite around the hem and mount panel-wise to the waist line at the side fronts. The tight bodice is laced with narrow silver ribbons tied and caught at the front with lavender velvet roses. Narrow slashings are quite the thing this season and they invariably extend below the hem line of the gown and contrast in color. Royal blue is often seen on black and the silver and lavender combination of the Claire gown is exceedingly good.

STRAWBERRY DISHES

Sister Mary Tells Various Ways to Prepare Them

If you would serve strawberries early in the season and make them go twice as far, here are a set of simple rules for you to try:

STRAWBERRY FLUFF
One cup strawberries, 1 egg white, 1 cup powdered sugar.

Put sugar, berries and egg white in mixing bowl. Beat 20 minutes with a strong Dover beater. Do not crush the berries before adding to the other ingredients. The beating is rather hard work, but the result is worth the effort. Serve on sponge cake and top with a whole perfect berry.

POLLY AND PAUL --AND PARIS

By BOY RECKLEY

"SWEET BELLS OUT OF TUNE"

The solitude, the whirling of her thoughts, the thirst for fresh air, at last drove Polly into the street. To see other human beings, to read in their faces their problems and wor-ries, might ease the gnawing of her own.

She stole past the ever-watchful little window of the concierge that pudent apartment entrance. She didn't want to be stopped and ques-tioned about her dress. She could bear no more.

It was between six and seven, and the rich yellow sunset was gliding the streets. Home-going crowds were thronging, in animated talk. In front of the Opera the marble-railed en-trance to the "Mero" Paris, sub-way, was black with people showing to get in. Girls in berets, their im-pudent short skirts blowing, absurd high heels clicking on the pavement, laughed more loudly than usual.

Young men and their sweethearts, hands entwined after the naive Paris manner, seemed uncommonly num-erous.

A stab of loneliness came, so acute that

THE RIDER OF GOLDEN BAR

WILLIAM PATTERSON WHITE

Little Brown and Company

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BILLY WINGO, good-natured and youthful sage-rider of Golden Bar, disappeared the gang of cattle thieves and politicians who elected him sheriff when they thought he was too easy-going to interfere with their law-breaking. Billy quarrels with Hazel, who saved him from being shot from ambush. Billy quarrels with Hazel, who saved him from being shot from ambush. Billy quarrels with Hazel, who saved him from being shot from ambush.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

"No," he resumed, in a tone that was unmistakably relieved, "it don't pay to go off half-cooked."

"No, it don't," concurred Billy, wondering greatly, both at the change in Simon's expression and the relief in his tone. "Why? He desired to know why. For am I his other vices, Simon was friendly with Raf. Tuckleton and his precious gang."

Billy Wingo slouched casually past the window through which Simon was looking. He perceived, knowing his way thru the snow, Mr. Tom Driver, the local justice of the peace. There was no one else in sight.

Entered the judge. "Good morning, gentlemen," was the judicial greeting. "You're not going anywhere, are you, Billy?" he inquired. "Reelfoot's had two cows shot," explained Billy. "Shotgun and I are going to see about it."

"Only two cows," said the judge. "You can send Riley Tyler instead. I have a little business to go over with you, Bill—a county matter. And—"

"All right, I'll stay. Riley, I guess you'd better go with Shotgun."

It was pure chance that enabled Billy to catch the gleam of satisfaction in Reelfoot's eyes. Why was Simon glad that he, Billy Wingo, was not going with him on the trail of the beef-killers?

When Shotgun and Riley were gone away with Reelfoot, Billy looked across at the judge and nodded. "What's it all about?" he asked curiously.

"Jake Kilroe," replied Judge Driver. "He's been selling liquor to the Indians."

"He always has. And it's a disgrace to the community. It's got to stop."

The door opened and Skinny Shindle entered. He laid a note on the desk in front of Billy.

"I stopped at Walton's," said Shindle, "and Tom's niece gimme this. She said I was to be sure and give it to you as soon as I could."

"When did she give you the note?" Billy inquired casually.

"Oh, round half-past two."

Without another word Shindle turned and walked out. Billy Wingo opened the note.

"Dear Billy:

"Please come out here as soon as you can. Come tonight without fail. I need you."

It was signed with Hazel Walton's full name.

Billy unfolded the note, read it again, then tossed it into the cardboard box that served for a waste-paper basket.

He crossed the room to an open door giving into one of the inner rooms. Passing thru the doorway, he pushed the door partly behind him. Billy applied his eye to the crack between the door and jamb.

Billy saw the judge lean forward, pluck the note from the box and dive noiselessly across the room to the stove. The judge opened the stove door and dropped the letter on the top of the blazing wood. Closing the door as noiselessly as he had opened it, the judge returned to his chair, sat down and crossed one knee over the other.

Billy returned to the office. The judge made to rise. "Well, I won't keep you any longer. We'll let it. Kilroe business with over a few days."

"Sit down, Judge," Billy Wingo murmured softly, his hand resting as if by chance on the butt of the six shooter. "Sit down, da."

"Judge," he remarked suddenly, "deceit and fraud should be 'emended on all occasions. Tell me why you put that letter in the fire?"

"Give it any name you like," replied the jurist carelessly. "I don't feel like answering your questions."

"Yet a little while back you didn't mind answering any questions I felt like asking. Was it to gain time, Judge—to gain time till Skinny Shindle came in and did his part with the note from Miss Walton? Dumb, huh? Perhaps you'd rather tell me why Simon Reelfoot acted about the same way. I expect you were delayed getting here, huh, Judge? Simon kept looking out of the window all time, I remember."

"Be advised," said the judge suddenly. "You can't buck us alone. You should know that."

"I should—maybe," returned Billy Wingo. "But I feel like taking a gamble with you. So instead of going to Kilroe's we'll do what the letter said and go out to Walton's today."

The judge lifted his eyebrows. "We?"

"We," confirmed Billy calmly. "You're going with me."

"Yes," insisted Billy Wingo. "And what's more, I'll lend you a suit of my clothes and my white hat and my red-and-white pinto. Which there ain't another paint pony colored like mine in this county; and just to make it a fair deal, I'll wear your buffalo coat and your fur cap, and I'll ride one of your horses."

The judge's face wore a curiously mottled pallor that gave it the hue of a dead fish's belly. "Are you insane?" he gasped.

"Not me," denied Billy Wingo. "For a pace he considered the judge, then he said:

"I guess you're ready for Riley, now."

Despite his professional calm the judge almost bounced out of his chair. "Riley! Where?"

"In the kitchen with the door open," explained Billy. "He didn't go with Shotgun and Reelfoot a-tall. Reelfoot wasn't completely successful in separating me from my deputies."

"Riley," said Billy Wingo. "I guess we'll need another witness. I wonder if you could get hold of Guerilla Melody."

"I won't go," the judge declared feebly.

"You said that before," said Billy Wingo, in no wise moved. "You'll go all right. Do you wanna know why? I'll tell you. You see, Judge, I know what I'm up against. I know that the only barrier that stands between me and the graveyard is the lead in this gun. I'm a life. I enjoy it. Besides, I'm too young to die and too stinking rich that therefore it's my business to see I ain't cut off in the flower of my youth, or cetera. It's my life or yours, and it's not gonna be mine."

CHAPTER XI

Guerilla Melody regarded the judge without expression. "Huh," he grunted. "Huh."

Within the quarter-hour they rode out of a belt of cottonwoods into the Hillville trail, three wooden-faced men and the wretched judge. The latter rode in front, with head bowed on hunched shoulders.

A mile from the ranch house they climbed the shelving side of the draw and rode across the flat to where a straggling growth of pine and spruce made a black, pear-shaped blot along the smooth white slope of a saddle-backed hill.

Beyond and below this spruce, where the draw met lower ground and lost its identity as a draw, was the Walton ranch house.

The four men reached the trees, rode in among them. Three of them unmounted and tied their horses. The fourth remained in the saddle. Said Billy Wingo to the fourth: "Get down."

The judge got down. Swiftly his hands were tied behind his back, and his eyes were thoroughly blindfolded with his own silk handkerchief.

Billy Wingo removed his overcoat from a voluminous pocket he took what appeared to be a roll of cloth. He shook out the roll and discovered the common or garden variety of cotton nightshirt, size fifty.

"If whoever's in the house can pick me out from the snow after wearing this, I'll give his eyes credit," he muttered, pulling on the garment in question over his head.

He buttoned the nightshirt with meticulous care, fished a washed flour sack from a hip pocket and pulled it over his head.

Without any fear of being discovered, so confident was he that it would be impossible to see him against white background, he approached the right angle end of the kitchen.

At the corner of the kitchen he dropped on his knees and one hand. Here behind the windbreak the snow was no more than two or three inches deep and he crawled along the side of the house toward a faintly glowing window that was his goal.

Inch by inch Billy raised a slow head above the window sill. For a long time he could see nothing within the room but the fire in the fireplace and a big chair over which had been thrown a buffalo robe.

Then after a time he saw, beyond the chair, the boot soles of a man lying on the floor. The body of the man lay in the shadow cast by the big chair.

There was something about those boot soles that told Billy that the man was dead.

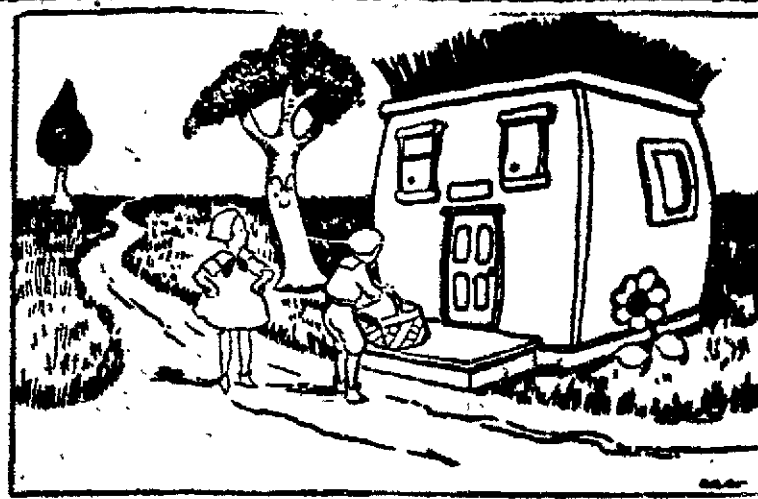

"I figured it would be this way," Billy told himself. "I didn't see how else it could be. Damn their souls! They don't stop at anything!"

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

THE QUEER HOUSE

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Nick set the basket on the funny little doorstep of the friendly house. "Thank goodness he's gone!" said a voice that seemed to come from nowhere. Nancy and Nick looked in every direction, but if anyone belonged to the voice he certainly wasn't showing himself. Nancy said suddenly, pointing at the queer little house beside the road, "Someone's pulling the blinds up and down, Nick. That's where the voice is! Inside the house."

"Oh, shucks!" said the voice. "No one's pulling my blinds down. I'm winking. I'm me. I'm a person! I'm not an ordinary house."

"Goodness, it's the house itself talking!" gasped Nick. "Why are you glad the goat's gone?"

"Goat? Who said he was a goat? He's no more a goat than I am a piece of green cheese. He's Twelve Toes, the wicked sorcerer, who makes more trouble than all the other wicked fairies put together. We're well rid of him."

"But he's left his basket," remarked Nancy. And she started to crawl under the toll-gate to get it. "Wait!" said the queer house. "I'll remove the gate. I only put it there to stop Twelve Toes."

"But how did you know that we were coming?" asked Nick. "The Princess Theresa, who lives in the Castle of Mirrors, saw you. But there! Whisker, remove! Now the gate's gone! Now please bring me the basket."

Nick set the basket on the funny little doorstep of the friendly house. "Be careful!" called the house. "Don't touch anything inside until I have a look. There! Just as I thought! Away down in the bottom is the Cloth of Dreams. That's a dangerous thing. But the cake looks good. Don't you want some? It's getting late, so come in and have tea. You'll find things in my kitchen cupboard. And I have two nice beds, just your size."

"You're very kind," said Nancy, making a curtsy. "Thank you, we'll come."

BARTHELMLESS IS ALGER HERO OF MOVIE WORLD

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
RICHARD BARTHELMLESS is showing his way to cinema fame by employing the Horatio Alger theme. That is after the manner of Charles Ray, who gained stardom and held great popularity thru such films for several years.

The Alger idea of a poor boy overcoming all obstacles has been the motive of both of Barthelmless' starring pictures, "Tollable David" and "The Seventh Day."

In the latter picture, Dick comes to command of his uncle's fishing schooner just when a crippled yacht limps into his home port.

The yacht carries a party of New York flappers and cake-eaters, young fellows doing their best to spend their fathers' money. Dick falls in love with one of the flappers (Louise Huff).

She is changed to one of the white-flashed sailors on the launch—they got that way because they had nothing else to do—but in the end Dick wins her. To balance the romance, the young dude wins Dick's sister.

But there is more to this story than this slender romance. "The Seventh Day" is a reflection of the present-day life of Young America—crash-shooting flappers and flask-totting he-flippers.

In the old days a young fellow the idea he was a sport if he went about with a pistol on his hip. Girls thought he was a regular fellow then. Today the flask supplants the firearm in the young idea of being a good sport.

In the picture one youngster pulls out a flask given him by his mother, another by his father and two by his kid sisters in boarding school.

There is no film preachment against these things as horrible immoralities. They serve to make contrast for the Alger character of the hero.

This is the first film made in which the youth of the country is depicted true to life.

"The Rage of Paris"—It Stars Miss Du Pont

WELL, we went over to the Lyric Thursday to see what "University" wisely advertised as new star is like. Her name is now Miss Du Pont, you know, but she used to be Margaret Armstrong and she was at one time a famous model. It seems her director has taken a lot of time to coach and instruct her and while she's a bit uncertain and rather self-conscious, it is safe to predict that in time she will become one of the most popular screen stars, because—she has the looks.

Tall, well-built, blonde, she is of the lovely Katherine Macdonald type, tho not nearly so beautiful. She has poise, dignity and nice manners. Also she knows how to wear her clothes, which is something that a lot of popular movie queens sadly lack.

The story? Look at that title and you can almost imagine the kind of a plot it is. The new star is Madame Torres, the most popular cabaret habitue in gay Paris. She is beloved by two men, and can decide on neither one of them. Fate and an imaginative scenario writer permits the action to switch to India, where the one love has gone and where the other pursues. A kindly sandstorm descends, providing a thrill or two, and conveniently kills off the pursuing one, leaving the rage of Paris and the true love together, side by side.

Too bad they didn't give Miss Du Pont a better story, but perhaps that will come in time. The supporting cast is an excellent one; there are several beautiful restaurant scenes, etc., and the photography is quite remarkable. The sub-titles are flowery, messy affairs—the less said about them the better.

"The Rage of Paris" should prove interesting to the majority of film fans who delight in new personalities. And there's no getting around the fact that Miss Du Pont is beautiful to look upon and that she undoubtedly could act, if she had any thing to act in.

Danny Lund In a New Comedy Offering

"CHAMPAGNE and Oysters," the working title of Danny Lund's new attraction at the Orpheum, is indicative of the kind of entertainment the play really is. Danny himself is invested with a distinctly novel comedy role and is a riot from start to finish. The principals and the chorus ladies all lend excellent background for the antics of the popular comedian, and the show moves at a fast clip thru out.

New songs, dances, and costumes are noted and the production is well staged.

"Champagne and Oysters" will continue as the main attraction at the Orpheum until Sunday, when a new production will be inaugurated.

Faurot—"Two Little Girls in Blue"

DEPENDABLE always as to his output in musical comedy, Mr. A. L. Erlanger will present at the Faurot Opera House on Tuesday, March 21, his latest piece of this character, "Two Little Girls in Blue," which occupied the George M. Cohan Theatre, New York, all last spring and summer. The work is said to represent the outlay of a good-sized fortune and presents the ripest accomplishments of this producer of the big things which amuse and entertain the American public.

"Two Little Girls in Blue" was written as a libretto by Fred Jackson and as to lyrics by Arthur Francis, while the score was composed by Paul Lannin and Vincent Youmans. The piece was staged by Ned Wayburn.

This gay musical play tells a unique story of two girls, twin sisters, alike as two peas, who sail from New York to India to claim an inheritance. They are poor, having money enough but for one ticket, and as they have never been separated since their birth they hit upon the expedient of both trying to sail on a single ticket, one agreeing to always remain in the stateroom while the other is on deck. All might have gone well with this ruse had not both been young and pretty and had not both fallen in love during the voyage and not with the same young man. The entire action takes place on board ship.

The cast includes the famous Fairbanks Twins, long favorites with the patrons of Ziegfeld's "Follies"; Jack Donaghy, the nimble, jointed dancer and comedian; Emma Jannier, the Tonson Twins, Jack Squire, Vanda Hoff, Donald Carroll, Louise Kelley, Dorothy Harrison and George E. Mack. An exceptionally beautiful chorus of Broadway personalities are a potent attraction.

HOW GREB TRAINED TO MEET TOMMY GIBBONS
PITTSBURG BATTLER
WRITES FOR NEWS

Harry Greb, the Pittsburgh battler, who upset the fists dope by beating Tommy Gibbons at Madison Square Garden and thus placed himself in line for a crack at Dempsey's title, has written for The Lima News six stories, the first of which is printed today. In this series Greb tells how he planned his campaign to beat Gibbons weeks ahead, how he outgamed the Minnesota fighter and thus proved to his critics that he COULD take punishment if needed, what effect small size has on a man out to grab the heavyweight championship crown, and what he really thinks his chances are with Champion Jack Dempsey and why.

You'll want to read 'em all, for they're not stuff, straight from the man who has made himself talked about by every fight fan in America by upsetting Tommy Gibbons' well laid plans for a title bout with the champ.

(By HARRY GREB)

Conqueror of Tommy Gibbons

I DEFEATED Tommy Gibbons by refusing to let him get set. Gibbons is a flat-footed puncher. He must be set to have any power back of his blows.

In addition, he telegraphs his intentions. I knew every time he intended to start a right-hander.

I had met Gibbons three times previous to our New York bout. In two of the bouts I decisively outpointed him. In the other bout any edge that Gibbons might have had was due to my lack of condition.

HOW GREB PLANNED DETAILS

In my three bouts with Gibbons I had carefully studied his style. My experience had proved to me that Gibbons was a flat-footed puncher, extremely dangerous if allowed to get set.

Since the New York meeting was the most important of my career, likewise Gibbons' I had carefully planned the details of my battle in advance. That I had the right dope was shown by the outcome of the bout.

I know that most of the ring experts were surprised at my carrying the fight to Gibbons.

I had decided on that program weeks in advance of the bout. That is the only way to beat Gibbons. Don't let him get set, and beat him to the punch by stepping inside as he telegraphs his intentions with his right.

CHANGE OF STYLE

My constantly changing style of attack had Gibbons bewildered as I figured it would. Some will say that Gibbons had an off night.

I don't believe that is fair to me. I think that my style, which Gibbons was unable to solve, was entirely responsible for my opponent's poor showing.

I am a bug on baseball. I intend to take a vacation in a few days. I plan to join the Pittsburgh team at Hot Springs.

In baseball they consider the pitcher who has a change of pace a wise guy, a tough fellow to beat.

I have carried that baseball idea into the fight game. I believe in mixing them up, using a change of pace.

A flat-footed boxer like Gibbons is helpless against that style. That is why I beat him so decisively. (Copyright, 1922, The News.)

GREB NEXT IN LINE

(By BILLY EVANS)

NEW YORK.—Prior to his fight with Harry Greb, Tommy Gibbons was considered the logical contender for a bout with Champion Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight title.

Harry Greb, for the time being at least, has definitely removed Gibbons from the picture. Tommy must start all over again.

It was figured that Greb was almost a setup for Gibbons. As a matter of fact preliminary arrangements had been made for a bout between Gibbons and Dempsey.

In order to strengthen his claim for such a bout, it was believed that a decisive victory over Greb would greatly increase Tommy's popularity and create interest in a match with Dempsey.

GOKE, BUT NOT FORGOTTEN

Gibbons started everything on the bout with Greb and lost. His defeat at the hands of a fighter who is really only a middleweight has completely erased Tommy as a logical contender.

Since Harry Greb decisively defeated the man picked to meet Dempsey, it would seem that such a victory should give him the right to a championship bout.

Greb is certainly entitled to a chance with Jack Dempsey. If Gibbons had decisively defeated Greb, he would have been hailed as the best opponent in the world for Jack.

PROMISING YANKEE RECRUIT

CAMP SKINNER

A PLAYER who has been little heralded in the advance dope, but who has an excellent chance to stick in the big show, is Camp Skinner of the New York Americans.

This fellow Skinner, however, appears to be gradually coming to the front as the one best bet among the "rookies." In all probability he will start in right field for the Yankees instead of Bob Meusel.

WRESTLER MAY MEET DEMPSEY

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK.—Wise heads vary in whether a soaking fist or a pythonic arm offer the best method of delivering a knockout.

It would be interesting to let Jack Dempsey and Strangler Lewis do an illustrated debate on the subject, but there is little chance of it.

Mr. Dempsey would want too much to prove the statement he made some time ago more or less to the effect that all wrestlers were walking examples of something loose in the head. Mr. Lewis also would want something to prove his counter-argument that if boxers had to work like wrestlers, there wouldn't be any boxers.

New York might furnish the necessary purse because any town that falls for two six-day bike races a year and eats up the trick matches of the "rasslers" trust, would fall for anything.

PRINCES TO PLAY
A TWOSOME

TOKYO.—The Crown Prince of Japan and the Crown Prince of England are all signed up for the most royal little golf game ever staged in these parts.

Their twosome will be one of the events of the visit of the Prince of Wales to Japan, where he will arrive April 15, from India, to return the visit of Hirohito to England.

Hirohito has gone in for golf with much zest of late, and is said to play a snappy game. It is probable that this imperial interest in golf will cause the game to gain in favor throughout Japan.

The British residents of this country are willing to bet all sorts of real money on Wales—but the trouble is the scores will very probably not be made public.

40 INVITATIONS

Forty invitations to participate in the county basketball tournament at the Y. M. C. A. here March 31 and April 1, were sent out Thursday by Physical Director I. G. Maxwell to Allen-co quintets and those in surrounding counties. Most of the 40 are expected to enter.

WIRELESS REUNION

ANN ARBOR.—University of Michigan Alumni Association are being advised by Fielding H. Yost, athletic director, that April 29 has been decided upon as "Michigan radio night." Coach Yost is completing the radio program by which it is planned to stage a sort of Michigan reunion by wireless.

GILHOOLEY TO HOLD
CONFERENCE HERE

CONFERENCE between Frank Gilhooly, Toledo baseball star and leading batsman and baserunner of the International league, and Manager Bernie Halloran of the Independent baseball team, relative to the signing of the former for service on the local club this season, may be held here soon.

Telephonic communication Thursday apprised the local manager that Gilhooly has not yet left his Toledo home to join his club, and that he may ask for a further extension of time to enable him to take up in detail the proposition that has been offered him here. Nothing was heard from him since the first offer was given, and it was a vast belief to the Independent manager when he learned Gilly is still hovering about the old hearthstone.

MAY REPORT TO READING IN INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

It now appears Gilhooly was transferred from the Buffalo club of the International to Reading, W. Va., of the same circuit. No plausible explanation of the change, except that he has served seven years with the bison tribe and they want new faces in the line-up, can be offered.

Owing to the fact that his wife wants him to give up professional baseball he has delayed reporting to Reading. His time is about up, however, and he will have to request an extension to afford him time to take up the local matter.

Much depends on the attitude of the Reading moguls regarding a longer turlough. If they say nix, Gilly will in all probability leave immediately to join the spring camp, but if they are considerate of his wishes he will have ample opportunity to weight the two propositions. That he would be pleased to locate here permanently is indicated by his inquiry for a Lima business connection that would occupy his club is not playing.

"MURDERERS' ROW" KEPT HIM OFF YANK LINE-UP

Nothing less than the famous "Murderers' Row" of the New York Yankees has kept Gilhooly off the regular line-up of the American league champs. Unless some late agreement has been put into effect between Buffalo and New York, he is nominally the property of the Yankees.

After he was plucked off the Toledo sandlots at the age of 17 years by far-seeing Buffalo baseball magnates, he played with the International club for a short time and then was transferred to the Gotham organization. Several seasons later he was farmed back to Buffalo, but remained on the Yank roster. There has been talk each year for the last three or four seasons about him getting back on the New York line-up for good, but failure in that direction is attributable to the ascendancy of Babe Ruth, Bob Meusel, and George Kelly as sluggers par excellence—the Yanks' murderers of the pill. Frank reported at the spring training camp of Miller Huggins' cohorts several times, and on one occasion stayed until the middle of the season, but always he was sent back to Buffalo.

WILL HELP PICK REMAINDER OF INDEPENDENTS

Further plans the management has to build up the club depends upon the Gilhooly deal. If he is secured his services will immediately be employed to sign up the remainder of the team. His wide experience in the field of baseball will be of invaluable aid in picking the best club possible.

He will be vested with the field management of the Independents. Fans are unanimously in favor of the heavy hitting outfielder and are adding their bit to the general efforts to bring him here. His presence in a Lima uniform would have far-reaching effects in stimulating other clubs to raise the national pastime in this district to a higher plane.

DAVIS CUP ENTRIES
CLOSE WITH 14

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)
NEW YORK.—Fourteen nations will compete in the contest this summer for the Davis cup. The entry list which closed last midnight contains a record number of competitors and several that are making their debut in international tennis circles.

Thirteen nations will fight it out to meet the United States team in the challenge round. Four preliminary rounds will be required to get the challenging team from Spain, British Isles, Canada, Australia, Japan, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, India, France, Denmark, Italy, Hawaii or Rumania.

ROLL LOW GAMES

Two Delphos five-men teams, the Royal Five and Pastime of Delphos, failed to hang up a money-winning record at the American Bowling Congress tournament in Toledo. The former rolled 3,469 and the latter 2,357.

ILLINI FAVORED

CHICAGO.—Illinois is the favorite here for honors in the 15th annual indoor track meet of the western conference Saturday night. Iowa and Wisconsin, however, are expected to be strong contenders. Trials will being tonight.

CAUTION OF THANKS

IVOLA BLANCH PHILLIPS
daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Walker, was born April 26, 1904 near Westminster, Allen Co., Ohio. In the city she spent most of her girlhood days. She was united in marriage to W. W.
Phillips September 16, 1915. To this union were born two children, Rhea
Carol and William Joseph. Rhea
Carol is that her mother's children are as early in life deprived of a mother's love and tender care which they now can never fully know.
She early in life united with the Methodist Protestant church and was very devoted to the work of the church and Sunday school and counted it one of the greatest joys of her life to render service to her church.
She departed this life Tuesday March 11 after several weeks of illness. She made a brave fight against death but she might remain with her little family, but was ready to go if it was the Master's will. What a beautiful and blessed thing it is to fall asleep in Jesus who is the life and the resurrection. She leaves her husband and two children, her father and mother, three sisters and one brother also a host of relatives and friends to mourn her loss.
The pains of death are past,
And life long weeps are closed at last.
Her soul is found in peace,
Soldier of Christ, well done,
Prayed be for her dear child,
And while eternal ages run
Rest in this Saviour's arm.

NEW YORK—Crucible Steel was the outstanding feature at the opening of today's stock market, making an extreme decline of 1-1/4 points as a result of the passing of the dividend. Bethlehem Steel forfeited a small fraction but United States Steel was unchanged. In other quarters of the list initial dealings indicated a continuance of the recent advance.

Coppers made substantial additions to yesterday's gains and oils, motors, sugars and tobaccos reflected the confident attitude of bull pools. Ralls were irregular, low priced issues strengthening, while investments inclined to ease.

On abundant offerings money continued to relax. Call loans opened and renewed into next week at 3 1/2 per cent but fell to 3 per cent within the first hour. Trading became more active and broader before noon, but with occasional traces of irregularity. Mexican Petroleum, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Industrial Alcohol and American Telephone were most stationary, losing 1 to 2 points. On the other hand, Crucible recovered the greater part of its loss and coppers, motors and gas shares displayed greater strength. Leathers, especially hide and leather preferred, were in demand and Coca Cola represented the miscellaneous group, gaining one point.

Investment ralls as a group were the only noteworthy backward feature in today's very active and comprehensive stock market operations which included many specialties. Sales approximated 1,300,000 shares. The closing was strong.

WHEAT SUPPLY AT LOW RECORD

Smallest Quantity in U. S. For Past Ten Years

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—Stocks of wheat in country mills and elevators March 1, were estimated at 72,564,000 bushels by the United States department of agriculture today. This is the smallest quantity in the record of reports made to the department for that date during the past ten years, with the exception of March 1, 1918, when the abnormally low stocks of 5,000,000 bushels followed the small wheat crop of 1917. Exports of wheat from the 1921 crop have been heavy and country mills and elevators possess only nine per cent of that crop. This is the smallest percentage for these stocks in the same month in ten years. The highest record is 18 per cent. Average wheat stocks in country mills and elevators March 1, during the past five years were about 91,000,000 bushels. Stocks this year were 20 per cent less than the five year average. Wheat stocks of this class were as much as 155,000,000 bushels in 1916 or 112 per cent more than the 1921 figure.

CHICAGO—Moderate new upturns in the price of wheat took place here today during the early trading, the chief factor being higher quotations at Liverpool. Reports that emphasized the smallness of European stocks of breadstuffs tended also to lift values here. Transactions, however, lacked volume. The opening, which ranged from 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 higher with May 1-1/2 to 1-1/2, was followed by slight additional gains, and then something of reaction.

Corn and oats were governed for the most part by the action of wheat. After opening 3-8 and 3-4 higher, May 61 3-4 to 62, the corn market kept near to the initial range.

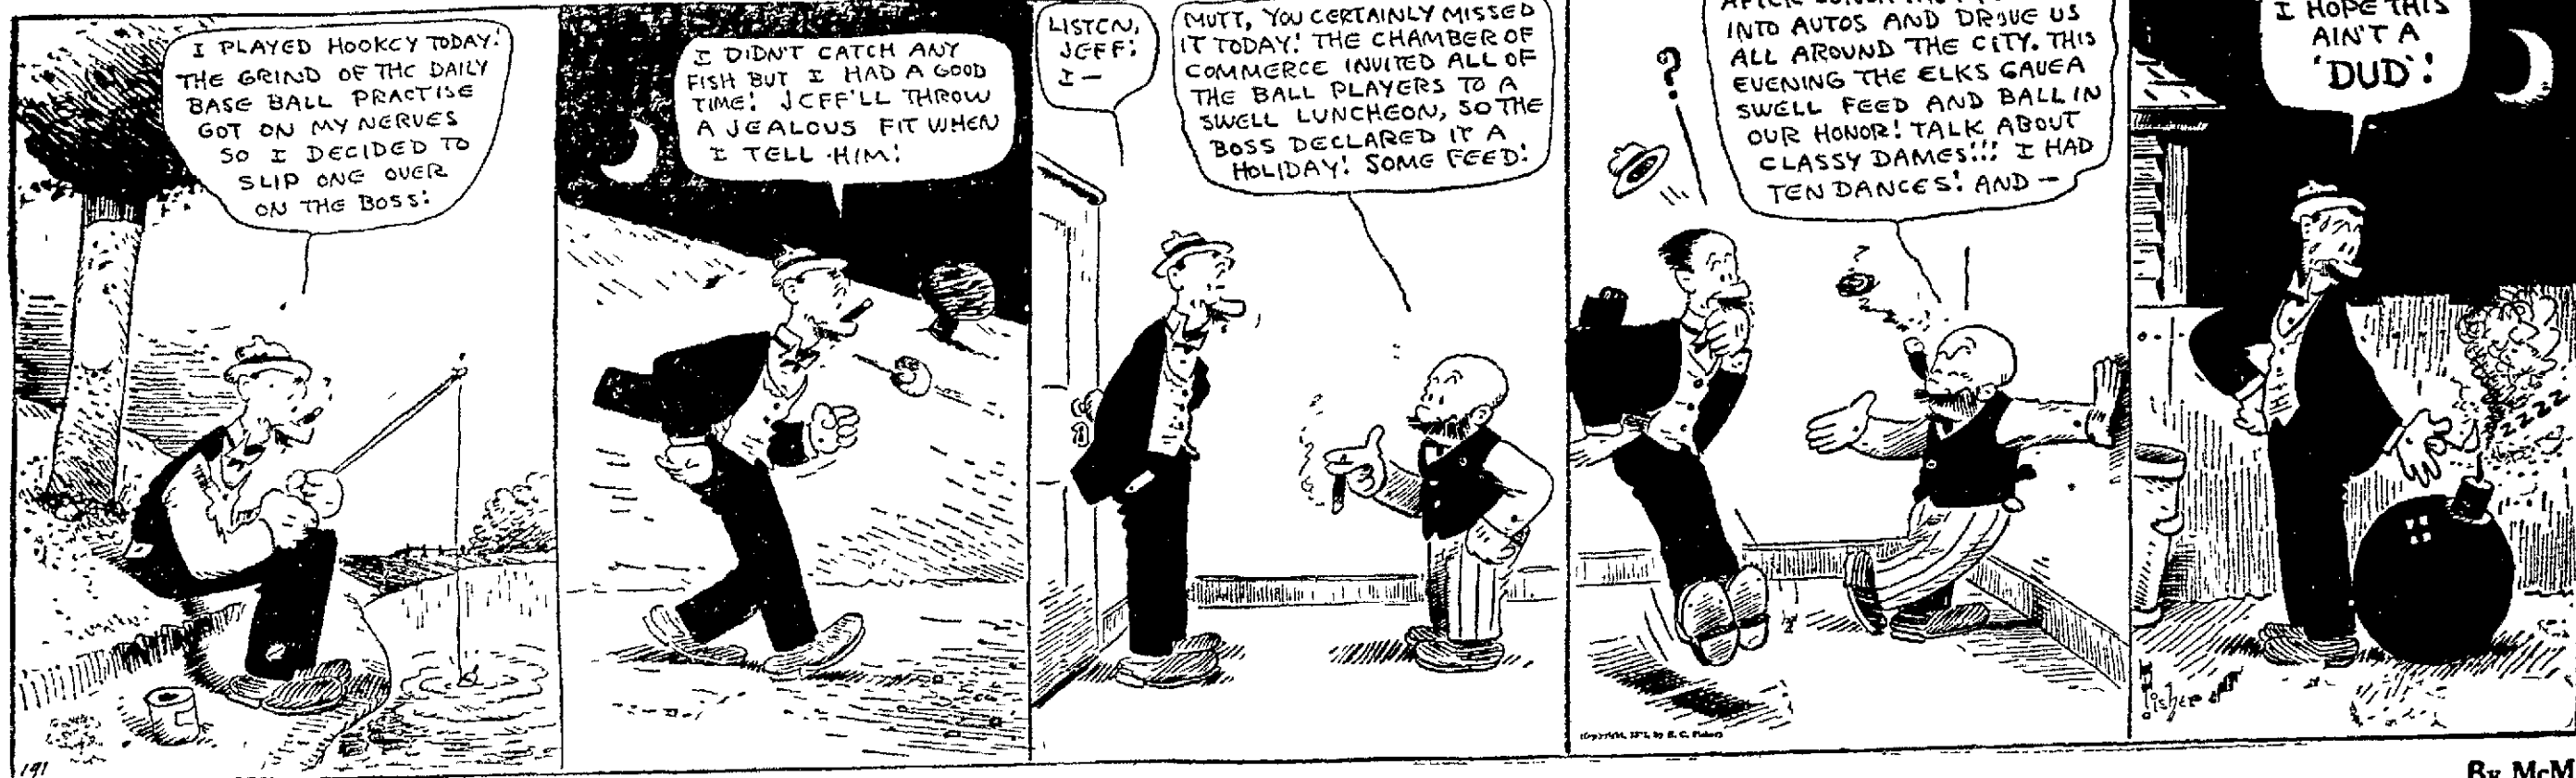

Oats started 4-3 to 4-2 up, May 38 1-2 to 38 5-8, and held fairly steady. Provisions declined in value with hogs.

The wheat close was unsettled 2c to 3-3/8, net higher with May 1.18 1-2 to 1.18 3-4 and July 1.19 3-8 to 1.19 5-8.

The corn close was firm at 1-1/4 to 1-1/2 net advance; May 62 3-4.

MUTT AND JEFF—MUTT BREAKS TRAINING FOR ONE WHOLE DAY—

By McMANUS

BRINGING UP FATHER—

SHORT SHAVINGS

F. J. Rinehart, mayor of Uniontown, in Lima on a business mission displayed a letter to friends, received from H. T. McGovern, Massillon, N. D. 4, making demand that Rinehart remunerate him and three school boys "who pulled you out of the mud."

Fred is the owner of an automobile, but he was never stuck in the mud in Starkco, he says. Rinehart explains that someone who knows him became mired in the mud in the eastern Ohio county and in lieu of paying cash for first aid promised to send a check, giving Rinehart's name.

Dr. D. H. Sullivan, dentist was afraid something had gone wrong with his eyes. For when he sat down at his office desk he couldn't see, even with glasses. "I found," he says, "that I picked up the wrong glasses when I left home. The pair I took was my wife's."

George Mehafter, banker, tells of a friend, an amateur photographer, was showing a party of girls how to get the proper focus with a kodak. This was at Fawcett park. He backed up too far in his enthusiasm and went over backward into the lake, camera and all.

"Bud" Greenland, howler, tells about two howlers who lost in a Pittsburgh boxing alley and won $100. Then they were afraid to leave for fear they would be followed and robbed. "They had to keep on howling until a policeman stopped in," he says. "They went out with the policeman."

Bob Downing ascribes unusual nerve in the young men he saw snatching a ride on the back of a street car. When the rider wanted to get off he reached in at an open window and pushed the bell for the motorman to stop.

WATER BILLS

Water Consumers in South Eastern Zone
This zone include all service south of North St. and East of Main St. (NOT including either street however.)

This Department has left notices at every house that these bills would be due on March 1st. We then advertised the same in all newspapers. We then posted twenty large notices throughout this section, and yet many people have not paid.

On Tuesday, March 21st, we will begin turning off water on unpaid accounts in this zone, in addition to the bill and the 10 per cent penalty we are required to charge $1.00 to turn water on after bill is paid. We can not vary from this rule and have therefore adopted every method possible to warn consumers.

Please aid us by paying your water bill now and relieve us of this unpleasant duty.
